Ms. Lorrie McHugh
Deputy Assistant to the President
The White House
Washington, DC.

Dear Lorrie:

Mike suggested that I drop you a note about my confidential assistant, Monica Lewinsky. Her resume is attached.

She is terrific--bright, energetic and imaginative. I would like Monica to stay here as long as I do. However, she has more skills than her current job requires, and this isn't a job she wants for life. As a result, I have advised her that she should try to move into a more substantive job, either here or in the White House. Unlike many people, she is actually following my advice. She would like to work in the White House, where she started work in Washington. She would be great as an organizer in the press operation or as an event planner in the communications office.

Mike says that you handle the really hard work over there, such as hiring. Please keep Monica in mind as appropriate jobs open up.

Yours,

1012-DC-00000001

Kenneth H. Bacon

concert for which I have a ticket!!!
Does that suck or what? Have you gone to the 'Hotel Okura' yet? Is this the most random, incoherent letter you've ever received? (tee-hee-hee) I'm better on e-mail.
Thank you again for the lovely picture of us. I look at it every day! I bet pretty soon I'll start talking to you in the picture!
You look so beautiful. I still can't get over how thin my arms are in the picture!!!
How is Chris? Is he enjoying work? the people? I'm curious as to what is going on w/ Nick & Jen. I hope you had a chance to talk some sense into him!! (j.k.)
Maybe if they get married ^{soon} you can come to the states ... via DC!!! (not too circuitous of a route or anything!!!) Oh, Catherine, I hope you know how much I love you and how very special your friendship is to me.
We'll always be close no matter how many miles are between us. I need you! I love you!
Please take care of yourself. Love to you and Chris!
♥ Monica

Dear Catherine,

18 MAY 97

I MISS YOU SO MUCH!!! It was wonderful to hear your voice the other day.
Well, it's Sunday & I might get to see the Big Creep today. He called yesterday & said he's going to see if Betty can come in so I can go there. It seems that he is really trying to get me back there! Who knows?..? Of course, I have my period!!! (and am really horny... but what else is new?) I hope all is well with you. I truly know how difficult it can be to assimilate to a new city--especially one where the language is so different! How are you getting by? Is the sushi really good?
... yummy...!!! You know what, "Ran" was on t.v. a week or so ago. "Hi Kidetora" ah Saburo. See, I'm still really weird!!!
BTW, I'm writing this card on my lap which is why it is so messy. I'm too lazy to move to my messy desk! I'm bummed because I realized that my LAST is the day after not before the Dave Matthews

*that I haven't experienced!

Hi, Girl-

It's been ages since i've spoken to you. I was in LA and then in =3D and london for work. London was wonderful, as to be expected.
 Brussels=3D20

Did you ever receive my package? What's been going on with you? I miss = =3D you=3D20
 terribly and feel clueless as to what's happening in your life.

My life is still in turmoil. I have given my notice for the end of this =

I'm a little nervous to do the whole name of the BF. His first name is Vernon. It went very well as I said yesterday. I won't be hearing from him until later next week. I know he saw the big creep yesterday afternoon. Unfortunately, that fucker hasn't called me so I don't really know what happened in the meeting or whatever else is going on with him. oh well.

I don't have much to report except that I'm absolutely exhausted today. It is an overcast, Portland-like day today and I just want to crawl into my beddy-bye and read, nap and relax. (of course, having a boy there too wouldn't be so bad!!!) I hope you are doing well. I miss you.

let me know what's up with you.

luv,
 monka

Hey! I said there is no way in hell I am a real size 6- I am = no-questions-asked-no-doubts-in-my-mind-an-honest-to-goodness-full-size = 8. EIGHT. And sizes are not double, but if they are then Jeannie is = half my size. My point was GAP is retarded, but in an ego-boosting way = so 'please try'- as they say in Japan. And I have NOT lost weight, I = have gained weight but only a little. What I do have is a constant = poochy belly from eating too much rice! So, no more sarcastic comments = on my voluptuous, size 8 bod. =20

Who's the BF? Have you told me his name? Can you? I hope that works = out for you, let me know. I have no time right now. I have to go to my = 7.30a class and I am not dressed yet. =20

Okay, my lovely size 10 lovebug- and you cannot say anything bad about a = size 10 because I think that is a fine size- seeing as I was one for = years and probably still am in Guess or Benetton or something. Actually = I think I am one with Jigsaw, a Brit company I buy clothes in here. So = no more of it all! I love you, be good! Cat

ok. I have some bad news. I am off the next trip so i won't be coming to Tokyo. I am probably sorrier than you are. the truth is it would have been so difficult to spend time together and it probably would have benn more frustrating than anything.

The job thing on Friday went much better than expected. It was nice; the big creep called thursday night and gave me a pep talk because i was so afraid I'd sound like an idiot. Richardson is a great guy and i met two women who work for him...also very cool. Yesterday, Richardson called me at work and told me they were going to offer me a position..they didn't know what yet, and they wanted to talk with me further. The problem is, I don't really wnat to work there (issue wise or location wise) I've already had the experience of working in a yucky building. It was awful, actually, because i feel a little trapped into taking it. HOPEFULLY, there will be some movement on the other tracks in NY too. I told mr. bacon I was planning to move and was in the process of looking...which is why i asked him if i could switch trips with tom. The biggest reason i need to do that was because the creep's friend who is supposed to help me with the private sector possibilities has been out of town the last two weeks. I feel like I'll lose momentum with them if i disappear for three weeks now (that's including Thanksgiving). Oy vey!

I'm glad to hear you guys had such a nice weekend. Honestly Cat, it sounds like such a wonderful fantasy to me. To be with yourr husband -- as part of a couple with other couples doing couple-y kinds of things and having fun.

My Australian boyfriend CALLED me on Friday to let me know his e-mail was down.. He said it had become habit to e-mail me friday nights and he wanted to let me know he couldn't send anything. I know...when's the wedding???? Just kiddin'.

i miss you tons and am so sad i won't see you, but maybe we'll work something out soon. When do you guys come to the states..for holiday? and for good?

kisses and hugs

Hi, Girl-

Nothing much is going on right now. You know I don't think I have mentioned to you that I have developed this interesting e-mail friendship with one of the Austrialians I met in Princeton. He is sooooo nice (and I know he is cute). It's such a shame he lives all the way in Australia! I'm hoping he will be back in the states for business soon (hopefully, I'll ahve lost half my ass by then). His name is...Chris! Wouldn't that be funny if I married a Chris ,too!

So, I did a bad thing this past weekend. I called that shmucko (yeah, I know-- which one?) ANDY. Oh, I don't know why I did that. It was so stupid of me. I was uncomfortable talking to him. I asked how the kids were and if everything was ok. I felt so weird so after about 3 minutes..no more...I said, well I gotta go..and he said that's it and then my phine clicked so I said yeah and hung up. oh well. I actively hate his guts. he deserves to go to hell.

I have nothing to report otherwise. I have sent my list of crap to the Creep and am waiting to see if anything happens. I sure hope so.

I love you.

THIS IS REALLY LONG. YOU MAY WANT TO PRINT IT OUT TO READ IT!!!

OK here is the note i sent you which you never got. God this e-mail system sucks so much!!!!

Hi, how was Chris' birthday? I got the beautiful pictures from the wedding. Thank you. You look so stunning. i could sit and look at the picture of you and Chris all day...hmmmmmmmm. Also, the wedding party picture is so ...i don't know...quintessential -- like it could be the picture in a frame when you buy a new one!

The Princess Di stuff....I am the most sad for her sons. I think it is tragic what happened. There are a lot of people who are very upset by this whole incident. I'm sorry you're having a hard time with it. As i said, i feel bad for her kids and sorry that she passed away, but i wasn't really her biggest fan -- sort of neutral towards her.

Well, I have an update or maybe an end-date... it's kinda long so here goes...

Yesterday morning i went to a farewell ceremony for someone here and saw the White House liaison woman with whom I met last week about being detailed. I asked her if she got my e-mail and she said she had and asked if i had spoken to Marsha recently. I said "no. why?" She said that Marsha had run into a few snags and i should talk to her. So i called Marsha all day long yesterday and finally got in touch with her at 5 pm. She has been stripped of the detailee slot in her office. So for now, there isn't anyplace for me to be detailed. So I should be PATIENT. I told her i was very upset and disappointed (even though i really didn't want to work for her) and then she and i got into it. She didn't understand why i wanted to come back when there were still people there who would give me a hard time and that it isn't the right political climate for me to come back. I said i didn't understand why it was okay for there to be talk about some people there but it wasn't okay for me. they have all been taken care of. ohhhh it was so infuriating. she asked me why i kept pushing the envelope on coming back there -- after all i had the experience of being there already!

So it's over. I don't know what i will do now but i can't wait any more and i can't go through all of this crap anymore. In some ways i hope i never hear from him again because he'll just lead me on because he doesn't have the balls to tell me the truth. i kind of phase in and out of being sad -- as to be expected but i'll survive. What other choice do i have?

Of course i wrote that like the day after it happened and as to be expected with me felt differently a few days later. Things have been pretty shitty (insert SIGH). I will tell you the one very sweet, very mixed signal thing going on first cuz it makes me smile. Before the creep left for his vacation I gave him a copy of the novel "The Notebook" --it's this mushy romance (written by a guy) that is like "Bridges of Madison County" sort of BUT one of the recurring themes or things of significance that comes up in the book is Whitman's (gee not Thoreau's--duh) "Leaves of Grass". I thought it was neat and sweet. I enclosed a card wishing him a fun vacation and asked in a post script if he could bring me a "Black Dog" t-shirt, which you probably know is from this quasi-famous restaurant in Martha's Vineyard— if he had a chance. Well, I found out from Betty yesterday that he not only brought me a t-shirt he got me 2 t-shirts, a hat and a dress!!!! Even though he's a big schmuck that is surprisingly sweet — even that he remembered!

OK Now for the ~~shit~~. Now that you've read what happened w/ Marsha this will make more sense. I called Betty on Wednesday to find out if they knew what had happened and she said she knew but she didn't know if he knew, blah..blah. For three days she kept saying she didn't have a chance to talk to him and then it became this thing on Friday that maybe I could see him and it got crazy, and Cat I lost it. I went ape ~~shit~~. To tell you the truth, I don't even want to get into it all because it's too exhausting.

But the end results were that I talked well mroe like cried to Betty in person on Friday and then I was supposed to maybe see the creep on Sun. and then it didn't work out. I cried for hours and then Betty called to say he was going to talk to the chief of staff. Bl d on't know what will happen. I also said to Betty taht I didn't want him to do anything taht was going to get him in trouble, then yesteday she called to tell me about the black Dog stuff. the ~~shit~~ if I know what the hell is going on!!!! he leaves to go to CA and then a bunch of other places for awhile. Oh well.

On another note, Ashley and I are going to a black tie gala this Saturday being hosted by the Young Smithsonians, which we have joined. hopefully we'll meet some interesting people. Oooh, a cute boy would be VERY nice.

Just to make this e-mail more interesting (and way too long) I am enclosing my latest and LAST e-mail with Doug that ~~shit~~. Of course you will see that what he wrote was true, but who asked for the truth! I never responded and then he sent me all of these e-mails and said, "Last e-mail unless I get a repsonse - hello?" LAMER!!!! (I'm going to put what I wrote first and then his response will follow)

Monica: (we had been conversing earlier and I was sad..he asked why) it might sound silly, but sometimes I just really want somebody (a male) in my life to just physically be with — you know hugs and stuff (I don't only think about sex).

I was counting on someone to help me with a job and they put me in touch with someone else that just ~~shit~~ me around for six months. it's frustrating for me. then I get sad when I need some TLC and I can't get it. I haven't made the circle of friends here in DC like I had in Portland where if I just needed a guy I had a 3 or 4 male friends on whom I could call. here it seems that most of the guys in my life I have dated so of course, there's always baggage involved. I think I'm not happy here in DC and I'm not really sure what to do about it. so in a nutshell...I'm sad. it is nice of you to ask, thanks.

DOUG:

You need to concentrate on you — then others will be attracted to that. You're too consumed with chasing others rather than improving yourself and having that attract others naturally. Make yourself physically and mentally fit and the rest will naturally take care of itself.

Focus from within and disappointments will disappear!

CAN YOU BELIEVE THIS CRAP! (ok. I know what he said is true but...)

Well on to better topics. Your softball game sounds like fun. I am glad you and a good day. You know Catherine, I want you to know that I really admire you for having moved with Chris to Stinky. There are so many people who would have said "let's put off getting married til you come back. i don't want to go..blah..blah" But you, instead, i think have really captured what marriage is truly about. I hope Chris knows how lucky he is to have you and to have you --something so comforting and reassuring-- to come home to. YOU have made his transition for work so much better. Imagine how hard it would have been for him (and you too but he was starting a new job) to have been separated from the one he loves. he would have been pining for you and his life in America. Instead, you guys have journeyed together. My Mom and Aunt often ask after you and remark how wonderful it is that you guys are doing it together.

Well, I hope you didn't get too bore dearly on and not get down to this last paragraph because it is the important one.

I miss you and love you. Oh, BTW, we may be IN Tokyo still on your birthday!!!!!! But if not, we'll celebrate early.

Hug yourself for me.
Monica

Yeah- that you may be coming here in November and only a few days before = my 24th birthday! I would absolutely love to see you, I really hope you = come. Well, I suppose if you get a job that you like more before then = then I will be happy for you, too. I don't think I got an email from = you about pictures. Are you referring to wedding photos? I hope you = got them okay. I think the probs are at the Pentagon for email because = I'm always getting notes that say messages from me to you cannot be = delivered. So how are you Monica? Really. I know you are busy at = work, but please don't feel like I am 'tired of' or 'bored' or 'annoyed' = or anything about you talking about Marsha stuff or Creep stuff or = anything- you can still, always, tell me if you want. I remember asking = you a few weeks ago if you would really consider moving to NYC and if = you would live with your mom there. If you responded I never got that = one so let me know. =20

Well, remember my friend Tara, whom I met in London? I visited her in = San Diego senior year spring break and now she lives in NYC with her = fiance. They are getting married next month and we just received their = invitation. Obviously, we cannot go but my thing is I have not heard = from her in over 4 months! We talked a lot in the last year, especially = after I got engaged and then she did. After I moved here I emailed her = and got a response but nothing since. In that one email she said = something was sort of 'up' or something but no details- she said she = would snail mail me the news because she didn't want to email it. Well, = I have not heard from her. I have sent emails with my home address, = postcards etc and still nothing and then her invitation. I am a little = perturbed. I sent back the return saying we can't come and i wrote her = a personal letter too. I'm bummed.

Anyway, last Saturday Chris and I went to the Yokohama Country and = Athletic Club (YCAC) with American friends, through my friend Mary and = her husband, to play softball. The YCAC is really nice- it is very open = and sits on top of a hill and has lots of grass and trees! Nothing like = the Tokyo American Club, its sister club. It was a TAC game against the = YCAC and we, the TAC, won one and they won one. It was so much fun- we = forgot we were in Japan!! I played right center in the outfield and had = a walk and a few hits. Mary was the only other girl on our team and she = played catcher. After we hung out with our team and drank beer and ate- = overall a great day, surprisingly in Japan. Oh, aren't I negative about =

Yeah, Kelly sure was right!!!! I was totally distracted. I'm sure you remember I talked to the creep on the phone at work and I was supposed to go there and everything got crazy. I am glad you've had a good time with her but I certainly understand you and Chris wanting some time alone (like to have loud, rad SEX) before you leave!!!!

I'll talk to you about the Marsha stuff on the phone it is too exhausting for me to write it all. I'm drained right now. I can't wait to talk to you on the phone!!! I love to hear your voice...ahhh I sound like such a musher!!!!

Well, Catherine, my dear, (jeez...I hate being called "dear". the creep calls me that sometimes it's an old person saying!!!!) I don't have much to write -- I am boring. But did I tell you I had sex with Thomas last week? I know. I am soooooo naughty. it was fun and good. I went over there with some ice cream and pretty much seduced him in a way that made him make the moves on me..cool or what???

I LUV YOU!!! Monica

I thought I would get rid of that Re:blind date message once and for all. If you like him and want to see him again call him. Unfortunately, = sometimes that must be done. I know it sucks and you wish it not have = to be that way but that's life. We have to put ourselves out there = sometimes and maybe be cut-off and maybe be let-in, you never know. =20 You can tell me about bad MARsha or work what-nots, Monica. I am not = frustrated, necessarily, but concerned and wishing things would change = or you would change them. =20 It has been fun with Kelly but I am ready for her to leave- I'm burnt on = the entertaining thing. Also, I leave on Friday, the day after her, and = I want to be alone with Chris. I think he feels the same way, but won't = say it in so many words. I'm not trying to be mean, its not so much = personal against her....The other day we were talking about her going = to Phillie and all and I asked if she thought she would contact and see = you. She said she would like to and probably would. Then she said she = had a good time with you in DC but you seemed distracted some nad that = she thought you were a 'very private person'. I thought it was astute, = but I just agreed and said you could be. Anyway.... Off to work! Write back before I go, 'kay? Love, Cat

Hey! I said there is no way in hell I am a real size 6- I am no-questions-asked-no-doubts-in-my-mind-an-honest-to-goodness-full-size 8. EIGHT. And sizes are not double, but if they are then Jeannie is half my size. My point was GAP is retarded, but in an ego-boosting way so 'please try'- as they say in Japan. And I have NOT lost weight, I have gained weight but only a little. What I do have is a constant poochy belly from eating too much rice! So, no more sarcastic comments on my voluptuous, size 8 bod. Who's the BF? Have you told me his name? Can you? I hope that works out for you, let me know. I have no time right now. I have to go to my 7.30a class and I am not dressed yet. Okay, my lovely size 10 lovebug- and you cannot say anything bad about a size 10 because I think that is a fine size- seeing as I was one for years and probably still am in Guess or Benetton or something. Actually I think I am one with Jigsaw, a Brit company I buy clothes in here. So no more of it all! I love you, be good! Cat

Whew! What a day! I met with the big creep's best friend this morning. It was very interesting. I have never met such a "real" person in my entire life. You know how some people wear their hearts on their sleeves; he wears his soul. Incredible. He said, with regard to my job search, "We're in business." We'll see. he also said the creep had talked to him, and as I was leaving he said, "You come very highly recommended." (Tee-hee-hee)

The Richardson thing does sound interesting for someone who likes international affairs - NOT ME! But I am trying to only look for something in NY. It's time for me to get out of here. I really hope that the creep and I can still have contact, because, I know it sounds soooooooooo ridiculous, but I can't get him out of my heart. I love him a lot. I know it's stupid. I want to hug him so bad right now I could cry.

OK. I hate you, you little-size-6-bitch. I don't know if I can be friends with you anymore!!!!!! That's nice. I'm a 10-12 so that makes me double your size. I am happy for you. That is awesome. Do you think being around the petite Japanese has made it easier to lose or more pressure? either way, that's rad. I miss you so much. There's a void in my soul.

Ohhh how I long for the time when we can just spend a day together...starting w/ coffee at Starbuck's...shopping...lunch at somewhere yummy...maybe a movie...more shopping...and then getting drunk on margaritas!!! Whooo-hoooo!

I love you and I'm reminding you to tell me about why your weekend away w/ couples wasn't so fantasy island.

Love
 M

Hi Monica! Chris' birthday was mellow, especially because it was a Wednesday. I took out to dinner at a nice Thai place. He opened his presents in the morning and last night, his American birthday, we had a nice bottle of red wine from my parents to him and had dinner at the table with music and candles....very civilised. Personally, I hope he does not call you anymore either. I think you are correct that he does not have the balls to tell you straight how it is- kind of similar to the way he is as P. I am sorry any of this has or will hurt you but I think you are really better off, emotionally and professionally, getting out now. I hope your experience with him will not jade you to other men. I know you thought he was pretty awesome and he sure holds a damn successful position (!- understatement), but he is still human and still flawed like all the rest of them. Personally, I think the best guys in the world are the low key kind who care more about watching a movie at home and taking care of you than of going to expensive sushi bars and showing you off. Well, its morning here and I have to get ready for the day. Oh, by the way did you know that you forwarded a message (A bientot, Oregon) from Kelly to us? I thought it was kind of wierd, but probably just a mistake. Take care, Monica nad let me know any further what-nots over htere. love Catherine Hi, how was Chris' birthday? I got the beautiful pictures from the wedding.

Thank you. You look so stunning. i could sit and look at the picture of you and Chris all day...hmmmmmmmm. Also, the wedding party picture is so ...i don't know...quintessential -- like it could be the picture in a frame when you buy a new one!

The Princess Di stuff....I am the most sad for her sons. I think it is tragic what happened. There are a lot of people who are very upset by this whole incident. I'm sorry you're having a hard time with it. As i said, i feel bad for her kids and sorry that she passed away, but i wasn't really her biggest fan -- sort of neutral towards her.

Well, I have an update or maybe an end-date... it's kinda long so here goes...

Yesterday morning i went to a farewell ceremony for someone here and saw the White House liaison woman with whom I met last week about being detailed.

1037-DC-00000086

So it's over. I don't know what i will do now but i can't wait any more and i can't go through all of this crap anymore. In some ways i hope i never hear from him again because he'll just lead me on because he doesn't have the balls to tell me the truth. I kind of phase in and out of being sad -- as to be expected but i'll survive. What other choice do i have?

2799

Subject: hi mon

I'm sorry about all the shit that seems to be going on around you. Marsha is obviously working from a place of pettiness and jealousy- her remarks to you are so unprofessional I can't stand it. she sounds like a catty teenager! Your idea about working in another city or country is intriguing. Do you think it is viable and conceivable for you? Could it be another American city or do you really want to be international? I guess it depends alot on openings, availability and place. I mean you would not want to be in Bosnia or Saudi Arabia (would you?). Betty is being so nice to you now, it seems. Do you have sense of why her attitude has changed? She's probably sick of seeing this happen to you after all this time.

I'm worried about you, Monica. Again, I think your idea to leave the area or get out of gov't work is a good one. I think you are in the midst of a dangerous, psychologically, situation. I am at a loss as to make you feel better or help, if I could possibly do either. When I read your emails sometimes I cannot even believe some of the things you tell me. It all sounds so dramatic and painful for you. Is your trip to L.A. for holiday or work? Maybe, you will feel a little better getting away. I don't mean to sound so disjointed but I guess I feel a little disjointed. I know it is your life and I would NEVER presume to tell you how to live it- as you would never tell me how to live mine- but I cannot help being very concerned.

As for me, I am busy with work and with private conversation groups. I made a friend last week from work. we met after a meeting at work and she asked me to have lunch with her- the first person to do this. So we ate and drank beer and talked. She and her husband have been here for 4 months. Her name is Mary and she is 26 and was a nurse in the US ans about to start a MA program when they moved here for his business, of course. I was very impressed with her 'sacrifice'. Anyway, she's nice and hopefully we will go out again- maybe for the 4th. It was nice to talk to a woman about the stresses of living here and being newly married here, too. Actually she and her husband were married this February- 2 weeks before they moved to Tokyo. Even worse than Chris and !! Well, I must be off to my last class of the day. Write back and let me know how things have progressed. take care and love, Cat hi, your email made me sad, Monica. I'm sorry for all that s--- that went down with that woman. It was very inappropriate for her to ask you questions like that. In my opinion, walking away sounds like the best thing because it sounds like you will just get the run around from those clowns and continue feeling bad. Isn't it amazing that something like work and employer types can make us feel so self-conscious? I hate that kind of stuff. I'm sorry again for all this and I hope you can put it behind you if that is what you choose to do.

Was nutrition guy fun? You have to give me some info like age, looks, how many times, nice, etc....My weekend turned around a little. I had a 'talk' with Chris when he came back from the golf thing and it was okay. Last night we went to a very nice, expensive restaurant but it was my idea so I'm still waiting for flowers and/or spontaneity. I have to be patient and forgiving with him though because he is under a lot of stress from both work here and also in the US. Actually, we may be going to the mountains this weekend- just he and I. Yeah! Next weekend we are being taken by Mitsui, who owns his US company, to a hot springs resort but that's with lots of people.

So, my job. I like so far. My 2 classes are pretty good and the students are nice and higher level which is much better. Although, there is one woman in my presentations class that speaks slowly and quietly and has a terrible time reading Eng. out loud. She always stumbles over words and then goes back and starts the sentence over- it drives me crazy but I keep it inside. I feel bad for her because I know she knows she is a lower level than the other 2 in the class. The 2 women in my Bus. Comm. class are great- we have a lot of fun and it's mellow but they are smart and cool. They are the type of people that I would not mind having a drink with after class sometime.

We'll see. I have also started 2 private convo groups which are good- pays cash. I like most of the other instructors at my job-job but the staff can be punks sometimes. I've had no trouble with the bosses yet- thank God.

Well, I'm really, really fat so my new clothes look disgusting on me. That's all I have to say. Oh, except wearing silk, or silk-esque, scarves is fashionable here so I do that with a suit. I look nice but I tie it a little off my neck so I don't feel like I'm choking to death. My brother is like that with ties so it must run in the family. Speaking of Nick....he is keeping busy. He goes out with friends a lot, plays golf, softball and baseball, and works a lot, too. Mom thinks he has gotten over the initial shock and is on to the beginning stages of 'moving on'. I miss him and feel for him so much it hurts. Can I say something wierd, but not wierd? My brother, essentially, was my first love. Not love that is at all sexual because I never found myself thinking that way about him but love like 'men should be like this and I want one like this for me' -I never harboured any idea that I wanted him but as a model for my own man. Does that make sense? You've met him, I think you can understand how I felt. And in a lot of ways Chris is like Nick, especially internal qualities about treating people and being a good person.

Well, I love you girl and miss you soooooo much. Take care and write back soon ya' hea'. love Cat hi, actually I have a real job! I am an 'instructor' of English but in relation to business issues to Japanese business who, primarily, work for US companies that have offices over here. My first 2 classes are ESP, English with a Special Purpose, in this case giving presentations. Where I know anything about business, I don't know. But the pay is outrageous! Granted, Tokyo is expensive but you do get paid very well. Its quite professional in dress, especially when meeting with clients so I went shopping, of course, and bought a cute suit at Jigsaw. But, God, the clothes are sooooo expensive here, I can't over it. I wonder how young people, on their own, handle it. They probably live at home or in flats that are much cheaper than ours. Well, our weekend was semi-exciting. Alex's girlfriend Chrisanthi was in Tokyo for a few nights for a conference so we went out with her on Saturday night. Other than that we laid around a lot and talked about going somewhere but didn't. Next weekend I think we'll get out of town and maybe go to Kamakura, which is on the ocean. I'm getting a little city-sick. Oh, I think I know which road you were on when you were here- that was lined with trees and had lots of shops and cafes. I'm pretty sure it was Omotesando in Aoyama. Its really lovely and has Parisian-esque outdoor cafes and all the swank boutiques. That's where I went shopping the other day.

I don't know how Nick is doing, except that he pitching on a baseball team and working A LOT. His job is very good but because the company is small, but growing, he has a lot of responsibility so he often works Saturdays as well as full week days. Unfortunately, he's not well rewarded with a fat paycheck, either. Its a mechanical engineering firm, in case you didn't know what he did. I must say I feel proud when I tell people 'my brother is an engineer'. As far as I know he is still split from Jen but is still dealing with it by himnself. Its very nice of you to ask after him, I appreciate that.

I'm sorry you are on an 'emotional rollercoaster' right now. What can you do on your free time that may help you either refocus or get your mind off things, temporarily. Are you close to any country areas to take a walk or a lake or beach? something outdoorsy but pleasant? Its hard not having a close girlfriend to 'escape' with, isn't? I may be able to become friends with one woman I work with but that remains to be seen- I guess, I sometimes want the benefit of a friend but don't want to put in all the effort to set it up. It was nice to see Chrisanthi and actually we had a 2 hour girlie-chat on the phone when she was here Friday night. It was really nice to 'dish' to someone other than Chris!

Well, I need to get ready for work- I'm training all this week and my classes start next week. Training sucks and I really don't like my trainer- a man named Sean from Australia- I think he's sexist and offensive. Anyway! I love you and look forward to hearing from you soon, love, Catherine

Hi, Cat-

I hope this e-mail finds you well. It is hard to believe, but i have brought the card i wrote you weeks ago to mail. Of course everything in there is now obsolete, but it is a cute card. I miss you. Remeber how i told you about that guy Kurt Campbell who's the Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense for Asian Affairs, well he is going with this other woman (actually from my office)to Tokyo this week. Do you want me to give him your number and maybe you and Chris can meet him for a drink or somethin'???

Let me know so I can get him the info before he leaves. I had a pretty boring weekend. I did, however, go iwth my Mom to see the "Picasso:The Early Years" exhibit yesterday. It was wonderful. I must say that I found it overwhelming to see just how much work he produced-- and then to realize that was only some of his work from his EARLY years...jeez!!!! Otherwise, I am depressed. I float from being sad to angry often and easily. What can I do but weather the storm. I hope you're doing ok. Have you started tutoring in English conversation???? Let me know how you are and what you're up to. I love you and miss you. Also, how's Nick doing? write me back.

Love, ME

THIS IS REALLY LONG. YOU MAY WANT TO PRINT IT OUT TO READ IT!!!

OK here is the note I sent you which you never got. God this e-mail system sucks so much!!!!

Hi, how was Chris' birthday? I got the beautiful pictures from the wedding. Thank you. You look so stunning. I could sit and look at the picture of you and Chris all day...hmmmmmmmm. Also, the wedding party picture is so ...i don't know...quintessential -- like it could be the picture in a frame when you buy a new one!

The Princess Di stuff....I am the most sad for her sons. I think it is tragic what happened. There are a lot of people who are very upset by this whole incident. I'm sorry you're having a hard time with it. As I said, I feel bad for her kids and sorry that she passed away, but I wasn't really her biggest fan -- sort of neutral towards her.

Well, I have an update or maybe an end-date... It's kinda long so here goes...

Yesterday morning I went to a farewell ceremony for someone here and saw the White House liaison woman with whom I met last week about being detailed.

I asked her if she got my e-mail and she said she had and asked if I had spoken to Marsha recently. I said "no, why?" She said that Marsha had run into a few snags and I should talk to her. So I called Marsha all day long yesterday and finally got in touch with her at 5 pm. She has been stripped of the detailee slot in her office. So for now, there isn't anyplace for me to be detailed. So I should be PATIENT. I told her I was very upset and disappointed (even though I really didn't want to work for her) and then she and I got into it. She didn't understand why I wanted to come back when there were still people there who would give me a hard time and that it isn't the right political climate for me to come back. I said I didn't understand why it was okay for there to be talk about some people there but it wasn't okay for me. They have all been taken care of, ohhhh it was so infuriating. She asked me why I kept pushing the envelope on coming back there -- after all I had the experience of being there already!

So it's over. I don't know what I will do now but I can't wait any more and I can't go through all of this crap anymore. In some ways I hope I never hear from him again because he'll just lead me on because he doesn't have the balls to tell me the truth. I kind of phase in and out of being sad -- as to be expected but I'll survive. What other choice do I have?

Of course I wrote that like the day after it happened and as to be expected with me felt different a few days later. Things have been pretty shitty (insert SIGH). I will tell you the one very sweet, very mixed signal thing going on first cuz it makes me smile. Before the creep left for his vacation I gave him a copy of the novel "The Notebook" -- it's this mushy romance (written by a guy) that is like "Bridges of Madison County" sort of BUT one of the recurring themes or things of significance that comes up in the book is Whitman's (gee not Thoreau's--duh) "Leaves of Grass". I thought it was neat and sweet. I enclosed a card wishing him a fun vacation and asked in a post script if he could bring me a "Black Dog" t-shirt, which you probably know is from this quasi-famous restaurant in Martha's Vineyard— if he had a chance. Well, I found out from Betty yesterday that he not only brought me a t-shirt he got me 2 t-shirts, a hat and a dress!!!! Even though he's a big schmuck that is surprisingly sweet — even that he remembered!

OK Now for the ~~shit~~ Now that you've read what happened w/ Marsha this will make more sense. I called Betty on Wednesday to find out if they knew what had happened and she said she knew but she didn't know if he knew, blah..blah. For three days she kept saying she didn't have a chance to talk to him and then it became this thing on Friday that maybe i could see him and it got crazy, and Cat I lost it. I went ape ~~shit~~ To tell you the truth, i don't even want to get into it all because it's too exhausting.

But the end results were that i talked well more like cried to Betty in person on Friday and then i was supposed to maybe see the creep on Sun. and then it didn't work out. I cried for hours and then Betty called to say he was going to talk to the chief of staff. I don't know what will happen. i also said to Betty that i didn't want him to do anything that was going to get him in trouble, then yesterday she called to tell me about the black Dog stuff. the ~~shit~~ if i know what the hell is going on!!!! he leaves to go to CA and then a bunch of other places for awhile. Oh well.

On another note, Ashley and i are going to a black tie gala this Saturday being hosted by the Young Smithsonians, which we have joined. hopefully we'll meet some interesting people. Oooh, a cute boy would be VERY nice.

Just to make this e-mail more interesting (and way too long) I am enclosing my latest and LAST e-mail with Doug that ~~shit~~. Of course you will see that what he wrote was true, but who asked for the truth! I never responded and then he sent me all of these e-mails and said, "Last e-mail unless i get a response - hello?" LAMER!!!! (I'm going to put what I wrote first and then his response will follow)

Monica: (we had been conversing earlier and i was sad..he asked why) it might sound silly, but sometimes i just really want somebody (a male) in my life to just physically be with — you know hugs and stuff (i don't only think about sex).

i was counting on someone to help me with a job and they put me in touch with someone else that just ~~shit~~ me around for six months. it's frustrating for me. then i get sad when i need some TLC and i can't get it. i haven't made the circle of friends here in dc like i had in portland where if i just needed a guy i had a 3 or 4 male friends on whom i could call. here it seems that most of the guys in my life i have dated so of course, there's always baggage involved. i think i'm not happy here in dc and i'm not really sure what to do about it. so in a nutshell...i'm sad. it is nice of you to ask, thanks.

DOUG:

You need to concentrate on you — then others will be attracted to that. You're too consumed with chasing others rather than improving yourself and having that attract others naturally. Make yourself physically and mentally fit and the rest will naturally take care of itself.

Focus from within and disappointments will disappear!

CAN YOU BELIEVE THIS CRAP! (ok. i know what he said is true but...)

Well on to better topics. Your softball game sounds like fun. I am glad you and a good day. You know Catherine, I want you to know that I really admire you for having moved with Chris to Stinkyo. There are so many people who would have said "let's put off getting married til you come back. i don't want to go..blah..blah" But you, instead, i think have really captured what marriage is truly about. I hope Chris knows how lucky he is to have you and to have you --something so comforting and reassuring-- to come home to. YOU have made his transition for work so much better.

Imagine how hard it would have been for him (and you too but he was starting a new job) to have been separated from the one he loves. he would have been pining for you and his life in America. Instead, you guys have journeyed together. My Mom and Aunt often ask after you and remark how wonderful it is that you guys are doing it together.

Well, I hope you didn't get too bore dearly on and not get down to this last paragraph because it is the important one.

I miss you and love you. Oh, BTW, we may be IN Tokyo still on your birthday!!!!!! But if not, we'll celebrate early.

Hug yourself for me.
Monica

Yeah- that you may be coming here in November and only a few days before = my 24th birthday! I would absolutely love to see you, I really hope you = come. Well, I suppose if you get a job that you like more before then = then I will be happy for you, too. I don't think I got an email from = you about pictures. Are you referring to wedding photos? I hope you = got them okay. I think the probs are at the Pentagon for email because = I'm always getting notes that say messages from me to you cannot be = delivered. So how are you Monica? Really. I know you are busy at = work, but please don't feel like I am 'tired of' or 'bored' or 'annoyed' = or anything about you talking about Marsha stuff or Creep stuff or = anything- you can still, always, tell me if you want. I remember asking = you a few weeks ago if you would really consider moving to NYC and if = you would live with your mom there. If you responded I never got that = one so let me know. =20

Well, remember my friend Tara, whom I met in London? I visited her in = San Diego senior year spring break and now she lives in NYC with her = fiance. They are getting married next month and we just received their = invitation. Obviously, we cannot go but my thing is I have not heard = from her in over 4 months! We talked a lot in the last year, especially = after I got engaged and then she did. After I moved here I emailed her = and got a response but nothing since. In that one email she said = something was sort of 'up' or something but no details- she said she = would snail mail me the news because she didn't want to email it. Well, = I have not heard from her. I have sent emails with my home address, = postcards etc and still nothing and then her invitation. I am a little = perturbed. I sent back the return saying we can't come and i wrote her = a personal letter too. I'm bummed.

Anyway, last Saturday Chris and I went to the Yokohama Country and = Athletic Club (YCAC) with American friends, through my friend Mary and = her husband, to play softball. The YCAC is really nice- it is very open = and sits on top of a hill and has lots of grass and trees! Nothing like = the Tokyo American Club, its sister club. It was a TAC game against the = YCAC and we, the TAC, won one and they won one. It was so much fun- we = forgot we were in Japan!! I played right center in the outfield and had = a walk and a few hits. Mary was the only other girl on our team and she = played catcher. After we hung out with our team and drank beer and ate = overall a great day, surprisingly in Japan. Oh, aren't I negative about =

I'll talk to you about the Marsha stuff on the phone it is too exhausting for me to write it all. I'm drained right now. I can't wait to talk to you on the phone!!! I love to hear your voice...ahhh I sound like such a musher!!!!

Well, Catherine, my dear, (jeez...i hate being called "dear". the creep calls me that sometimes it's an old person saying!!!!) i don't have much to write -- i am boring. But did i tell you i had sex with thomas last week? I know. I am soooooo naughty. it was fun and good. i went over there with some ice cream and pretty much seduced him in a way that made him make the moves on me..cool or what???

I LUV YOU!!! Monica

I thought I would get rid of that Re:blind date message once and for all. If you like him and want to see him again call him. Unfortunately, = sometimes that must be done. I know it sucks and you wish it not have = to be that way but that's life. We have to put ourselves out there = sometimes and maybe be cut-off and maybe be let-in, you never know. =20 You can tell me about bad MARsha or work what-nots, Monica. I am not = frustrated, neccessarily, but concerned and wishing things would change- = or you would change them. =20 It has been fun with Kelly but I am ready for her to leave- I'm burnt on = the entertaining thing. Also, I leave on Friday, the day after her, and = I want to be alone with Chris. I think he feels the same way, but won't = say it in so many words. I'm not trying to be mean, its not so much = personal against her....The other day we were talking about her going = toPhillie and all and I asked if she thought she would contacta nd see = you. She said she would like to and probably would. Then she said she = had a good time with you in DC but you seemed distracted some nad that = she thought you were a 'very private person'. I thought it was astute, = but I just agreed and said you could be. Anyway.... Off to work! Write back before I go, 'kay? Love, Cat

Hi Monica! Chris' birthday was mellow, especially because it was a Wednesday. I took out to dinner at a nice Thai place. He opened his presents in the morning and last night, his American birthday, we had a nice bottle of red wine from my parents to him and had dinner at the table with music and candles....very civilised. Personally, I hope he does not call you anymore either. I think you are correct that he does not have the balls to tell you straight how it is- kind of similar to the way he is as P. I am sorry any of this has or will hurt you but I think you are really better off, emotionally and professionally, getting out now. I hope your experience with him will not jade you to other men. I know you thought he was pretty awesome and he sure holds a damn successful position (!-understatement), but he is still human and still flawed like all the rest of them. Personally, I think the best guys in the world are the low key kind who care more about watching a movie at home and taking care of you than of going to expensive sushi bars and showing you off. Well, its morning here and I have to get ready for the day. Oh, by the way did you know that you forwarded a message (A bientot, Oregon) from Kelly to us? I thought it was kind of wierd, but probably just a mistake. Take care, Monica nad let me know any further what-nots over htere. love Catherine

Wow, your mom's flat sounds amazing! That is so wonderful for her- I hope she is really happy with this guy. If you moved to NY would you be able to live with her? Would you still work for the DOD? Probably not, yah? I cannot say I am surprised that this whole situation has taken its toll on you. I'm sure it has for a while now. If I may be so bold to state my unequivocal opinion: I think your 'situation' is a lose-lose situation with him. He cannot ever be totally your's Monica. Ever. And, as I have said before, you deserve a man that is all your's. ALL YOUR'S. And just because there may not be another man around right now does not mean you should put yourself through the ringer with this Man. You are worth much more than that, no matter his Position its the same old affair bullshit. Does your mom support you moving to NY? If so, I think that would be fantastic! I would come visit you once a year and you could visit me once a year (of course, after I move back to the US) and we'd see eachother a lot!

Anyway, was your holiday relaxing? Four Australian businessmen?....I hope they were nicer and more polite than most Australians I meet. Today, Sept. 3rd, is Chris' 31st birthday. I am going to take him out to dinner tonight and, of course, have lots of presents for him to open. Unfortunately, since we don't have an oven (I), I can't bake a little cake. Maybe that is not so unfortunate! Well, I must be off. I'll hear from you soon, take care- I really mean it, too- I love you, Catherine Welcome Home! I, too, was sorry we didn't get a chance to talk, but I'm glad you had a good holiday. How is Jeannie doing? Is she still with what's-his-name? I was also happy to read that Nick seems to be doing better. On my little vacation I went to Princeton, NJ (where I met and had dinner with 4 Australian businessmen - it was much fun!!!!), the Spa in CT., and to Scarsdale, NY to see a friend of mine and my mom's. I did not hook up with that Jesse guy at the spa again. It was sort of my choice and a little lack of him not aggressively pursuing me. So here is big news.....my mom has gotten an apartment in NY for a year on 5th and 61st!!!!!! She is pretty serious with this guy and spends so much time up there already. It is funny because her big dream in life has been to live in NY and now he has gotten her an apartment there!!!! It's exciting!

My work sit: I met with the woman who is the White House liaison here and she described in detail, what needs to happen for me to be deatiled there.

It is a much more difficult process than i imagined. Essentially, I would remain an employee of Public Affairs and they "loan" me to the WH. PA doesn't get more money allotted or an extra position to fill my slot.

Normally they would only detail somebody in a slot where there are a few people who have similar tasks, i.e. a media desk officer - with me, there is only one confidential assistant in PA. We'll have to see what happens but I really don't want to work for marsha anymore. I don't trust her at all. I'm moving toward giving it all up. Maybe I'll move to NY. As I told you on the phone, I felt awful about my last visit with him. I don't doubt that he has real feelings for me, but how strong they are is another question. He hasn't taken care of me. we'll see what happens. I'm in an ok place right now. i am just starting to physically and mentally REALLY feel the and see the effects of all of this stress. It is getting to be too much for me. Don't worry though, I'll be fine.

Big hugs and sloppy kisses,
 Monica

Hi there! Well, I must say I am sorry that we did not get to talk = again. At first, I thought you didn't call back, but then Nick told me = a little later that you had when he was talking to my parents. My time = in Hawaii was fun, but a little frantic. Okay, not frantic exactly....I = was trying to do a lot in a small amount of time and try not to stress = about also doing errands I was supposed to do there, too. Needless, to = say I did not do all I was supposed to do and did not remember to buy = all I was supposed to buy! What I did do was go to the beach and eat. = Jeannie only worked twice while I was there and for short shifts and she = did not have classes yet. The weather was great, too, so I got to keep =
'enhancing' my colour there after the Lake. =20
The Lake, which is what we call where our summer cabin is, was really = nice. It is so unbelievably beautiful up there, its almost not real. = Its as close to pristine as I have ever seen. Anyway, the weather was = great up there too and we did a little hiking, some swimming, boating = etc...it was wonderful to hang there with my brother. He seems to be = doing okay- still recovering though and not quite ready to date yet. He = has some girl-friends that check in on him and say they will set him up = as soon as he is ready. I feel better knowing that he has girls to talk = to about this whole thing because you know how boys are...not the most = sensitive. My parents were good, although maybe a little tenser than = they could have been at times, especially my dad. I think that was = probably due to his whole being away from home for so long and trying to = still take care of business there and also wanting to buy a house in = Sonoma as soon as possible. Andrea was happy to have an awesome tan = and to not really be working- she starts work on her dissertation this = Autumn.

Well, that's pretty much my little trip to America. Too short! And I = came back to lots of work messages and all these new classes and = substitutions blah, blah, blah. That's life though, right? I guess, I = also came back to my husband, who I missed terribly. We have spent the = weekend together- no one else. So how are you doing? Where exactly did = you go on your holiday? Any news on job switching yet? Are you still = sure you want to be back in the WH? Let me know what all is going down = with you- work stuff but also any activities, more dates etc...? Do you = still see or talk to Ashley? Does she have an opinion on your move to = the WH? I hope you are okay Monica and I'm sorry I did not get to talk = to you again. Maybe I will try to give you a call in the next few = weeks. Can I call you at work? If so give me the number. I love you = and miss you and hope you're okay. Take care, love, Catherine hi, your email made me sad, Monica. I'm sorry for all that s--- that went down with that woman. It was very inappropriate for her to ask you questions like that. In my opinion, walkiing away sounds like the best thing because it sounds like you will just get the run around from those clowns and continue feeling bad. Isn't it amazing that something like work and employer types can make us feel so self-conscious? I hate that kind of stuff. I'm sorry again for all this and I hope you can put it behind you if that is what you choose to do.

Was nutrition guy fun? You have to give me some info like age, looks, how many times, nice, etc....My weekend turned around a little. I had a 'talk' with Chris when he came back from the golf thing and it was okay. Last night we went to a very nice, expensive restaurant but it was my idea so I'm still waiting for flowers and/or spontaneity. I have to be patient and forgiving with him though because he is under a lot of stress from both work here and also in the US. Actually, we may be going to the mountains this weekend- just he and I. Yeah! Next weekend we are being taken by Mitsui, who owns his US company, to a hot springs resort but that's with lots of people.

So, my job. I like so far. My 2 classes are pretty good and the students are nice and higher level which is much better. Although, there is one woman in my presentations class that speaks slowly and quietly and has a terrible time reading Eng. out loud. She always stumbles over words and then goes back and starts the sentence over- it drives me crazy but I keep it inside. I feel bad for her because I know she knows she is a lower level than the other 2 in the class. The 2 women in my Bus. Comm. class are great- we have a lot of fun and itsmellow but htey are smart and cool. They are the type of people that I would not mind having a drink with after class sometime. We'll see. I have also started 2 private convo groups which are good- pays cash. I like most of the other instructors at my job-job but the staff can be punks sometimes. I've had no trouble with the bosses yet- thank God.

Well, I'm really, really fat so my new clothes look disgusting on me. Thats all I have to say. Oh, except wearing silk, or silk-esque, scarves is fashionable here so I do that with a suit. I looks nice but I tie it a little off my neck so I don't feel like I'm choking to death. My brother is like that with ties so it must run in the family. Speaking of Nick....he is keeping busy. He goes out with friends a lot, plays golf, softball and baseball, and works a lot, too. Mom thinks he has gotten over the initial shock and is on to the beginning stages of 'moving on'. I miss him and feel for him so much it hurts. Can I say something wierd, but not wierd? My brother, essentially, was my first love. Not love that is at all sexual because I never found myself thinking that way about him but love like 'men should be like this and I want one like this for me' -I never harboured any idea that I wanted him but as a model for my own man. Does that make sense? You've met him, I think you can understand how I felt. And in a lot of ways Chris is like Nick, especially internal qualities about treating people and being a good person.

Well, I love you girl and miss you soooooo much. Take care and write back soon ya' hea'. love Cat

hi, cat-

i miss you! i'm glad you liked my silly little package. i had a good time at the spa (i did it with the nutrition guy)!!!! Yeah! Now i can start the count over again. (i kinda don't want to get into all the juicyies on e-mail)! On every other front of my life things are not so great. i met with Marsha yesterday and it was very interesting. There is most certainly a disconnect on what he said he told her and how she acted. She didn't even know what my title or my job was about. she didn't have any job openings to offer. instead, she made me go over what happened when i had to leave (who told me) and then proceeded to confirm the Evelyn story about my "inapprpriate behavior". Then she asked me with such nasty women there and peopel gossiping about me why did i want to come back? I was so upset. i really did not feel it was her place to question me about that. later on, i said something about being told i could come back after november and she wanted to know who told me that! So, i have placed a call to him but i don't know what is going to happen. i foudn out today that i didn't get the NSC job. To top it all off the big creep is wearing one of my ties today. i think i'm just going to have to walk away from it all. i don't know yet. i know it's annoying -- i'm always saying this and then i change my mind.

i hpe you're doing ok. how was your rice and beer???? i'm sorry you had a sad saturday. what is your work like? i'm very curious to hear about it so let me know (especially to hear about all of the clothes you have had to buy)!!!

well, i'm a little too sad to continue right now. i love you and i miss you. monica

I'm sorry about all the shit that seems to be going on around you. Marsha is obviously working from a place of pettiness and jealousy- her remarks to you are so unprofessional I can't stand it. she sounds like a catty teenager! Your idea about working in another city or country is intriguing. Do you think it is viable and conceivable for you? Could it be another American city or do you really want to be international? I guess it depends alot on openings, availability and place. I mean you would not want to be in Bosnia or Saudi Arabia (would you?). Betty is being so nice to you now, it seems. Do you have sense of why her attitude has changed? She's probably sick of seeing this happen to you after all this time.

I'm worried about you, Monica. Again, I think your idea to leave the area or get out of gov't work is a good one. I think you are in the midst of a dangerous, psychologically, situation. I am at a loss as to make you feel better or help, if I could possibly do either. When I read your emails sometimes I cannot even belive some of the things you tell me. It all sounds so dramatic and painful for you. Is your trip to L.A. for holiday or work? Maybe, you will feel a little better getting away. I don't mean to sound so disjointed but I guess I feel a little disjointed. I know it is your life and I would NEVER presume to tell you how to live it- as you would never tell me how to live mine- but I cannot help being very concerned.

As for me, I am busy with work and with private conversation groups. I made a friend last week from work. we met after a meeting at work and she asked me to have lunch with her- the first person to do this. So we ate and drank beer and talked. She and her husband have been here for 4 months. Her name is Mary and she is 26 and was a nurse in the US ans about to start a MA program when they moved here for his business, of course. I was very impressed with her 'sacrifice'. Anyway, she's nice and hopefully we will go out again- maybe for the 4th. It was nice to talk to a woman about the stresses of living here and being newly married here, too. Actually she and her husband were married this February- 2 weeks before they moved to Tokyo. Even worse than Chris and I! Well, I must be off to my last class of the day. Write back and let me know how things have progressed. take care and love, Cat will be moving back to OR next summer- after our Bali trip! We have = talked about staying longer and I worry about Chris going back to his = office after only a year away, but I don't think I can live in this = environment for another year or half-year. Yes, I make good money, but = it is mind-numbingly boring (my job). The other thing too, which is more = important, is the nature of this city with its horrendous pollution (my = hair is barely growing!), masses of people and no grass or trees. It is = expensive and a pain to leave the city for a weekend....blah, blah, blah. = For our year anniversary we are going out to dinner. Period. I mean, = if we lived in OR we would definitely go to some romantic B&B or hotel = out of Portland and maybe even fly and it would be cheaper than the = trains here. I sound whiny but it is a weird place and I think I may be = done with it next summer. I think about driving and my house and hiking = in the gorge and the coast and easy trips to N. California and friends and = the slow life and a puppy....I guess it's my small town island girl = that wants me out of the big modern city.

NEW TOPIC: I am- are you sitting- a size 6 at the GAP!!!!!! They have = seriously re-calibrated their sizes, baby, and it's time to shopshopshop. =
 I go in their and 10 are literally HANGING off me and 8s are well...lets = just say drinking those shakes once a day for 10 years has really paid = off! To be fair, I have not gained that much, but I am decidedly, with = out a doubt, unquestionably a smack in the middle (and comfortable with = it I might add) size 8. I wonder if they changed the sizes somehow = for Japan- to make those J ladies feel like they exist- no size 0s = puhhhleeezz!! Actually they probably love seeing me gather up the size = Gigantic next to their size Cute and Little. Bitches. Just kidding, = but for the first, or maybe second, time in my life I'm glad I'm not = tall. I guess the first time was when I was growing up in Japan...oh, I = mean Hawaii.

So, I am thrilled for you about this new job. I would be beside myself to = work in that group. Richardson looks like a nice man. What are some of = your other options, in the private sector? Would all of them mean a = move to NY? Try to tell me as much as you can. Oh, I miss you and I = really am sad you will not be here soon...I understand though. I hope = all works out. Very sweet about Australian guy. When will he be in DC, = or the east coast, next? Wait, did you get together with him when you = met him? Lots of questions to answer. Also remind me to tell you why = the whole couples extravaganza is not really a fantasy, at least this = one wasn't. I have to pop off to work. Write back as soon as you can. =
 I love you and take care. Cat

Wow, your mom's flat sounds amazing! That is so wonderful for her- I hope she is really happy with this guy. If you moved to NY would you be able to live with her? Would you still work for the DOD? Probably not, yah? I cannot say I am surprised that this whole situation has taken its toll on you. I'm sure it has for a while now. If I may be so bold to state my unequivocal opinion: I think your 'situation' is a lose-lose situation with him. He cannot ever be totally your's Monica. Ever. And, as I have said before, you deserve a man that is all your's. ALL YOUR'S. And just because there may not be another man around right now does not mean you should put yourself through the ringer with this Man. You are worth much more than that, no matter his Position its the same old affair bullshit. Does your mom support you moving to NY? If so, I think that would be fantastic! I would come visit you once a year and you could visit me once a year (of course, after I move back to the US) and we'd see eachother a lot!

Anyway, was your holiday relaxing? Four Australian businessmen?....I hope they were nicer and more polite than most Australians I meet. Today, Sept. 3rd, is Chris' 31st birthday. I am going to take him out to dinner tonight and, of course, have lots of presents for him to open. Unfortunately, since we don't have an oven (!), I can't bake a little cake. Maybe that is not so unfortunate! Well, I must be off. I'll hear from you soon, take care- I really mean it, too- I love you, Catherine Welcome Home! I, too, was sorry we didn't get a chance to talk, but I'm glad you had a good holiday. How is Jeannie doing? Is she still with what's-his-name? I was also happy to read that Nick seems to be doing better. On my little vacation I went to Princeton, NJ (where I met and had dinner with 4 Australian businessmen -- it was much fun!!!!), the Spa in CT., and to Scarsdale, NY to see a friend of mine and my mom's. I did not hook up with that Jesse guy at the spa again. It was sort of my choice and a little lack of him not aggressively pursuing me. So here is big news....my mom has gotten an apartment in NY for a year on 5th and 61st!!!!!! She is pretty serious with this guy and spends so much time up there already. It is funny because her big dream in life has been to live in NY and now he has gotten her an apartment there!!!! It's exciting!

My work sit: I met with the woman who is the White House liaison here and she described in detail, what needs to happen for me to be detailed there.

It is a much more difficult process than i imagined. Essentially, I would remain an employee of Public Affairs and they "loan" me to the WH. PA doesn't get more money allotted or an extra position to fill my slot.

Normally they would only detail somebody in a slot where there are a few people who have similar tasks, i.e. a media desk officer -- with me, there is only one confidential assistant in PA. We'll have to see what happens but I really don't want to work for marsha anymore. I don't trust her at all. I'm moving toward giving it all up. Maybe I'll move to NY. As I told you on the phone, I felt awful about my last visit with him. I don't doubt that he has real feelings for me, but how strong they are is another question. He hasn't taken care of me. we'll see what happens. I'm in an ok place right now. i am just starting to physically and mentally REALLY feel the and see the effects of all of this stress. It is getting to be too much for me. Don't worry though, I'll be fine.

Big hugs and sloppy kisses,

Dear Evelyn,

Thanks for the meeting yesterday. I wanted to follow up on a few points as you put your memo together.

o I've enclosed our staff division of responsibilities that we use throughout the year. I don't distribute it because I want White House and agency staff to funnel their issues and requests through our West Wing operation. That way I can keep track, exercise quality control, and make the judgements about the use of our staff resources.

o I've also enclosed a brief memo on our correspondence operation. It was in bad shape when I came in. We got rid of Monica and Jossie not only because of "extracurricular activities" but because they couldn't do the job. We also had problems with NSC and White House correspondence that have been corrected. I believe the operation is in quite good shape now.

Thank you for being so good to me this year. I greatly appreciate your help and counsel. I will take the steps you suggested and then follow up with both you and Leon.

resigned Friday as inspector general after facing accusations that she had committed the kinds of transgressions her office was supposed to be rooting out. Last year, GAO concluded that Ms. Lau had broken the law by steering a $90,776 contract for a management study of the inspector general's office to a friend who had recommended her for her job.

- Yasir Arafat, the leader of the Palestinian Liberation Organization had intended to pay an official visit to the Holocaust museum in the capital next week but was told by museum officials that he could not attend.

The Museum officials' rejection of an official visit emerged today as an awkward and embarrassing prelude to Mr. Arafat's visit to Washington next week to meet President Clinton.

- The international Monetary Fund got virtually everything it wanted from President Suharto. yet today, one day after he reluctantly agreed to a major restructuring of Indonesia's economy, its weakened currency resumed sliding.

The international marketplace, which has become the de facto arbiter of Indonesia's economic policies, still seemed dissatisfied. The risks and uncertainties, several financial analysts said, remained too great.

Today...

The President, accompanied by his attorney Robert Bennett, departed the White House at 10:19 a.m., enroute Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher and Follm law offices. Crowds of tourists and onlookers snapped pictures and waved as the President's motorcade passed. The President waved back.

He arrived at the law office at 10:21 a.m., and into the underground parking garage. He was joined in the limousine by Robert Bennett.

The President departed the law offices at 4:24 p.m, arriving at the residence at 4:26 p.m. Robert Bennett and Bruce Lindsey had rode with him back to the residence.

He went directly to the Oval office, Where Erskine briefed him on the Asian economic situation. He also picked up some of his paperwork and the latest draft of his State of the Union speech, which he took back to the residence.

The President talked, via phone, with:

- Marsha Scott, 8:50 a.m.
- Erskine, 9:04 a.m.

of. And all of you who are involved in the program, let me thank you from the bottom of my heart. I hope that you're getting a lot of it. I know the Americorps volunteers I painted with today made me feel proud that we started this.

That's why I have strongly supported, along with all the former presidents, General Colin Powell, and the Presidents' Summit on service and the work that he is doing and that tens of thousands of people across America are doing to give all of our children a good chance in life.

But finally let me say that this country will never be all that it can be and your future will never be all that it can be unless we decide we're going to build that future together. We will never be able to bridge the racial and other divides in this country unless we decide we're not only going to work together and learn together but we're going to serve together.

We actually have to believe that we're all better off when our neighbors are better off. We actually have to believe that we'll do better if we go forward together. We actually have to believe that this diversity we have is a blessing; and that the fact that some of us start out life poorer than others is a condition that can be overcome if we work hard to give people who deserve it a hand up; and that as we do that, we are all happier, more fulfilled, and living in a stronger America. That's what this is about.

This is not just about painting the walls of a school, although I passionately believe it's important. I personally, as a student, preferred old buildings to new ones, but every student deserves to go into a clean building with bright walls and clear windows, sending a signal that the student and his or her future is important.

But you're not just painting a school today, you're painting a very different picture for America's future, and it's a beautiful one because of you..."

The President departed the school at 1:17 p.m., arriving back at the Oval at 1:28 p.m.

The President spent the rest of the day working at his desk, returning to the residence at 6:45 p.m.

Daynotes...

1248-DC-00000291

The President talked, via phone, with:

- Kris, 8:40 a.m.
- Betty Currie, 8:43, 8:50 a.m., 1:45 p.m.
- Vernon, 8:56, 10:58 a.m., 5:56 p.m.
- Robert Bennett, 11:21 a.m., 9:50 p.m.
- Warren Christopher, 3:02 p.m.
- Vice President Gore, 9:26 p.m.

Geddes - Anne's Passies
195 BPH401

Award-winning New Zealand photographer Anne Geddes has been photographing children for nearly 12 years. Her pleasure and pride is obvious, as is the necessary patience, timing and the "sympathetic communication" needed with her favorite models. Using whimsical and dramatic set designs, Anne creatively coaxes delightful expressions from her unpredictable subjects. Anne Geddes' photography is available from Portal Publications on Blank and Greeting Cards, Prints and Matted Prints.

ANNE GEDDES

I think The end of this whole drama is over. I just wish my heart didn't have to be broken in all of this.

Well, I hope you and your family are well.

Again Dale, thanks for being such a Great friend.

Love,
Monica

Dear Dale,

I wanted to thank you for the kindness and friendship you extended to me last weekend. I really needed the friendly ear and good advice.

Unfortunately, I came back to DC only to learn that the detailee slot in Martha's office is no longer available. I had a long conversation with her and it is clear to me ~~be~~ now that I won't be able to come back any time soon.

GRAND JURY MATERIAL

Robert J. Bittman, Esquire
Deputy Independent Counsel
Office of the Independent Counsel 1001 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W.
Suite 490-North
Washington, D.C. 20004

Dear Bob:

Subpoena #D1415, which was issued to the White House, was referred to me as personal counsel to the President.

Enclosed herewith is a paperweight that we believe may be responsive to your subpoena. (Bates number DEK 228331 affixed to the side of the paperweight). We have not located any additional responsive material.

Although this production is physically being delivered to you instead of the grand jury, it is still being produced pursuant to grand jury subpoena and is fully covered by the secrecy provisions of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure.

Sincerely,

David E. Kendall

News...

- Floods ravage parts of U.S.
Swollen rivers and streams across the New York and Mid-Atlantic regions receded yesterday as tens of thousands evacuated residents returned to flood-ravaged homes and businesses in eight states, and public officials began to assess the costs of the worst flooding in decades. (NYTimes)
- Default Threat is Weilded by GOP in Budget Battle
In the latest Republican effort to revive the party's stymied economic and social agendas, the House majority leader, Dick Armey, said Congress would refuse to extend the nation's ability to borrow money to meet its bills unless President Clinton yeilds to the party's budget-cutting initiatives to decrease "the size and intrusiveness of government."

-- The position outlined signalled that the Republicans might be willing to use the threat of national default to force Mr Clinton to give more ground. (NYTimes)
- Islamic Group Vows Revenge on Americans
The most powerful group of Muslim militants have vowed to strike at American "interests and people" in revenge for the life sentence for Sheik Omar Abdel Rahman.
- State Department official investigates atrocities in Bosnia Asst. Secretary of State for Human Rights, John C. Shattuck said he and his officials had seen enough evidence in their first visit to Srebrenicia to corroborate reports of widespread mass executions.

Allegations of mass killings around Srebrenicia are not new, but were first made in July, 1995 when the U.S. released satellite photographs that purported to show grave sites. Those killed were Muslims captured in or near the United Nations-designated "safe haven," of Srebrenecia by the Bosnian Serbs when it fell to Bosnian Serb forces on July 11, 1995

- President Declares Disaster Assistance for Commonwealth of Pennsylvania ordered federal aid to supplement state and local recovery efforts in areas struck by flooding beginning on 1/19/96 --can include housing, grants, low cost loans to cover uninsured property losses

Major streets in Harrisbury remained underwater state office building in Pittsburg and all government offices in Harrisburg expected to remain closed through first of the week.

- Steve Forbes Campaigns on his Flat Tax ideas.

In polls conducted for the Deseret News, portions of voters who says she should retire after her term ends in January climbed from 57 percent in November to 75 percent in Jan.
- Public Shows Rising Concern over Quality of Education
The flat tax and balancing the budget may be dominating the news from the campaign trail, but in America's living rooms, offices and supermarkets, voters are focusing on the quality of the nation's schooling. A recent USA Today/CNN/Gallop Poll found.

Today at the White House...

- The President and his family took a private tour of the Johannes Vermeer exhibit at the National Gallery of Art (NGA). Earl A. Powellk, III the gallery director, led the Clintons, family friends and a former room mate of Mrs. Clinton on the tour of the Dutch painter's works.

The first family was there for about one hour and fifteen minutes. Mrs. Clinton and Chelsea were there about 45 minutes before the President arrived.

The President went to the oval office carrying a satchel of work after the tour.

- The President ended up eating dinner with Kevin O'Keith, Bruce Lindsey and Dick Kelley, in the residence Solarium.

- The President hosted 32 friends at the WH movie theatre to view a new movie: "Executive Decision," starring Steven Segal, Kurt Russell and Halle Berry. (His other choice was Primal Fear, with Richard Gere.)

The President was in a wonderful mood as host to long-time friends - mostly from Arkansas. Popcorn, beer and soft drinks was on the menu. The movie was light, with just enough action to keep the audience awake. The President got up during the movie a few times - two times to briefly leave the theatre, and once or twice to check to see whether there was popcorn and drinks still there.

- The President called Coach Pat Summit, of the Tennessee Lady Vols Coach, winner of the NCAA's Women's Basketball Tournament, and Coach Andy Landers, of the Georgia Lady Bull Dogs, the losing team's coach around 8:45 a.m.
 - The President attended Palm Sunday services at Foundry Methodist Church @ 11:00 a.m. Pastor J. Philip Wogaman, talked about the humility of Christ. He cited Edmund Muskie and Albert Schweitzer as leaders with humility. The President sat through the baptism of the pastor's grand-daughter and a Confirmation ceremony, welcoming new members. He shook hands with several members of the congregation - a racially mixed, middle-classes group, with a scattering of some who appeared to be street people. The President appeared tired, and took no press questions on the way out of church.
- He returned to WH grounds @ 12:20.
- The President works in the Oval from 3:00 to almost 6:00.

- The President had asked for a 7 a.m. wake-up call, but called the operator this morning to tell them 'never mind', he was already up - at 6:40 a.m.
- The President and Mrs. Clinton left for the opening ceremonies of the Olympics in Atlanta shortly after 8 a.m., this morning. He greeted seven friends in the diplomatic room, as they left - Beth Coulter, her husband, her sister and her two children; an Arkansas Judge and his wife, Kay Arnold.

It was raining, so the President's friends were a little damp from the helicopter fan. Mrs. Clinton was beautiful in her pale pink suit and matching suede shoes - that were pretty much soaked by the

it was so sad seeing you tonight because i was so angry with you that you once again rejected me and yet, all i wanted was for everyone else in the room to disappear and for you to hold me.

bill, i loved you with all of my heart. i wanted to be with you all or the time. most recently in london, i walked the streets thinking how content i would be to walk the streets at your side while you spoke of things past -- filled the air and my soul with your knowledge of history.

when you gave me leaves of grass i realized that the reason i was so connected to you, or so i thought, was because you were in my soul. to quote your famous cliché, i felt your pain. i seemed, somehow to feel in my heart some of your experiences. you will see in this collection of things for you, a card i was so shocked to find for obvious reasons. It rang so true to me.

i have realized yesterday when betty told me you "couldn't" see me, what's really going on -- you want me out of your life. i guess the signs have been clear for awhile -- not wanting to see me and rarely calling. i used to think it was simply you putting up walls-- that the real you was the person whom i was with on the fourth of july. i'm humiliated at how wrong i was.

i am sorry that this has been such a bad experience. i will never forget what you said that night we fought on the phone -- if you had known what i was really like you never would have gotten involved with me. i'm sure you're not the first person to have felt that way about me.

well, anyway, these are all of the little gifts and one big christmas gift (the black box) that i've had for you. i wanted to give them to you in person, but that is obviously not going to happen. you may not want to keep them, but please don't send them back. i'm very particular about presents and could never give them to anyone else -- they were all bought with you in mind. your christmas present is an antique from, i beleive, the 30's. i was very attracted to it.

i knew it would hurt to have to say goodbye to you; i just never thought it would be on paper.

Handsome:

I asked you three weeks ago to please be sensitive to what I am going through right now and to keep in contact with me, and yet I'm still left writing notes in vain. I am not a moron. I know that what is going on in the world takes precedence, but I don't think what I have asked you for is unreasonable. I can't help but to have hurt feelings when I sent you a note last week and this week, and you still haven't seen me or called me.

I thought if I took away your burden of having to try to place me in the WH you would open yourself up to me again; I missed that more than anything. It was awful when I saw you for your birthday in August. You were so distant that I missed you as I was holding you in my arms.

You have functions tonight, tomorrow night and then you leave on Friday afternoon. Yesterday was the best window of opportunity to see me and you didn't. I'm left wondering why. I am begging you to please be nice to me and understanding until I leave. This is so hard for me. I am trying to deal with so much emotionally, and I have nobody to talk to about it. I need you right now not as president, but as a man. PLEASE be my friend.

Betty said that you come back from your dinner tomorrow somewhere between 8:30 and 9:00. For my sake, can we make an arrangement that I will be waiting for you when you get back, and we can visit just for a little while. It's really not that difficult...yes or no?

First and foremost, thank you.

My dream had been to work in Communications or Strategic Planning at the White House. I am open to any suggestions that you may have on work that is similar to that or may intrigue me.

The most important things to me are that I am engaged and interested in my work; I am not someone's administrative/executive assistant; and my salary can provide me a comfortable living in NY.

Networks:

- * Assistant producer at any of the networks
- * Kaplan -- CNN has a NY Office
- * News/political segments at MTV

Assistant to an account executive at any of the following (not administrative assistant):

- * Hill & Knowlton
- * Burson-Marsteller
- * Downey & Chandler
- * Bozell Public Relations/ Bozell Worldwide
- * Devries Public Relations

[These are agencies with which I am familiar. You may have more suggestions from the attached list of agencies in NY (Tab 1)].

- * Anything at George magazine

A note about the UN:

I do not have any interest in working there. As a result of what happened in April '96, I have already spent a year and a half at an agency in which I have no interest. I want a job where I feel challenged, engaged and interested. I don't think the UN is the right place for me.

Description

[Charles, Heinrich], compiler. Our Patriotic President: his life in pictures, famous words & maxims, anecdotes, biography. Illustrations and photographs. New York, Elite Art Press, 1904. Oblong 8vo. Color pictorial wraps, bound with cord. Cover illustration signed Friederang. [56pp]. Cover soiled and lightly foxed, edges of cover and pages toned and soiled.

Two bench stamps (V002-DC-00000003; DEK 227870) are affixed to the lower right corner of cover, removal of which will damage the paper. As of the mid-1997 date of this appraisal, the bench stamps were not present and so have not been considered as defects in the valuation.

This book, about Theodore Roosevelt (1858-1919), was compiled from a number of sources for the popular audience, rather than as a serious biographical work. It is of interest as an early biography of President Roosevelt. The First Edition was published by the Elite Art Press in 1901 and there were three subsequent editions, all in 1904. Two, from the Columbia Press and one other, of which this is an example, from the Elite Art Press. One of the Columbia Press editions was distributed by the Republican National Committee for President Roosevelt's 1904 Presidential Campaign for his second term and had campaign slogans printed on the back cover. The other Columbia Press edition, like this last Elite Art edition were published without such additions. The overall condition of this book, especially considering the fragility of paper wraps as binding, is Very Good.

Copies of this book are listed in the collections of only three libraries, the Library of Congress, the New York Public Library and Harvard University and there have been no recorded sales of the work in the past eight years. Similar works in similar condition are reportedly sold on average for less than $25.00 in area used book stores. As might be expected in publications of this type, sales of this book have not appeared in any public auction records, local, regional or national. The current popularity of Presidential biographies, campaign-related memorabilia and the scarcity of this book would support better than average price.

Fair Market Value

$35.00.

Corners bumped, slight rubbing to front hinge, lower back hinge separated about a quarter inch. A few scratches to marbled boards, head chipped and lacking two small pieces. Some toning and soiling to ffeep.

Two bench stamps (V002-DC-00000471; DEK 228327) are affixed to front inner paste-down, removal of which will cause tearing. As of the mid-1997 date of this appraisal, the bench stamps were not present and so have not been considered as defects in this valuation.

The book contains biographies of the first 25 U.S. Presidents and their families and is indexed. The list of authors includes John Fiske, Carl Schurz, Robert C. Winthrop, Daniel C. Gilman, William Walter Phelps, George Ticknor Curtis, George Bancroft, John Hay and others. "Several of the monographs were especially prepared for this work, while the larger number were written for Appleton's Cyclopædia of American Biography." (National Union Catalog). The 25 portraits of the Presidents are bright, intact and well-executed, the overall appearance of the volume is attractive and its condition is Very Good, despite the minor defects to the binding.

The First Edition of this work was 1894, and there were four subsequent editions, of which this volume is the second. This 1898 edition is the only one reported to have been bound in three-quarter leather, while the others were in blue cloth bindings. A leather binding is an element of value, typically increasing the price of a book. Even so, as a second edition, sales of this book have not been reported in any local, regional or national public auction records. Sales in the current used book market have been more frequent for the first and fifth editions, but one copy of this edition is currently available in Massachusetts for $45.00. Consultations with book dealers and an auction house owner concerning this book generated estimated prices somewhat above that amount. The elements contributing to the value of this 1898 edition include the binding, the quality of the engraved presidential portraits and the current local interest in presidential biographies.

1. Ms. Lewinsky had an intimate and emotional relationship with President Clinton beginning in 1995. At various times between 1995 and 1997, Ms. Lewinsky and the President had physically intimate contact. This included oral sex, but excluded intercourse.

2. When asked what should be said if anyone questioned Ms. Lewinsky about her being with the President, he said she should say she was bringing him letters (when she worked in Legislative Affairs) or visiting Betty Currie (after she left the WH). There is truth to both of these statements.

3. After Ms. Lewinsky was informed she was being transferred to the Pentagon, Mr. Clinton told her that a) he promised to bring her back to the WH after the election and (in a subsequent conversation) b) Evelyn Lieberman spearheaded the transfer because she felt the President paid too much attention to me and vice versa. Ms. Lieberman told the Pres. that she didn't care who worked there after the election, but they needed to be careful until then.

After the election, Ms. Lewinsky asked the Pres. to bring her back to the WH. In the following months, Mr. Clinton told Ms. Lewinsky that Bob Nash was handling it and then Marsha Scott became the contact person. Ms. L met with Ms. Scott twice. In the second meeting, Ms. Scott told Ms. L she would detail her from the Pentagon to her (Ms. Scott's) office, so people could see Ms. L's good work and stop referring to her as "The Stalker." Ms. Scott told Ms. L they had to be careful and protect the Pres. Ms. Scott later rescinded her offer to detail Ms. Lewinsky to her office.

Ms. Betty Currie asked Mr. John Podesta to take over placing me in the WH. Three weeks after that, Ms. Linda Tripp informed Ms. L that a friend of Ms. Tripp's in the NSC, Kate, had heard rumors about Ms. L; Ms. L would never work at the WH with a blue pass; and suggested to Ms. Tripp that Ms. L leave Washington, DC.

Following this conversation, Ms. Lewinsky requested of the Pres. that he ask Vernon Jordan to help secure her a non-government position in NY. He agreed to ask Mr. Jordan.

DF-DC-00000003

In an effort to help Ms. L, Ms. Currie asked Mr. Podesta to assist, as well. Ms. L believes that the Pres. ~~asked~~ spoke with Mr. Erskine Bowles regarding Ms. L's employment in NY. Mr. Podesta arranged for Ms. L to interview with Amb. Richardson, who later offered Ms. L a position in Communications/ Public Affairs at the USON.

In the beginning of November 1997, Ms. L met with Mr. Jordan. He asked Ms. L why she was there to see him. Ms. L explained to him (in more detail) that she and the Pres. were friends and people got the wrong idea, resulting in Ms. L's banishment to the Pentagon. Ms. L said she was seeking Mr. Jordan's help to begin a new life; he agreed to help.

DF-DC-00000004

Ms. L met again with Mr. Jordan in the beginning of December '97, at which time he provided Ms. L with a list of three people to contact and suggested language to use in her letters to them. At some point, Mr. Jordan remarked something about Ms. L being a friend of the Pres. of the United States. Ms. L responded that she never really saw him as "the President"; she spoke to him like a normal man and even got angry with him like a normal man. Mr. Jordan asked what Ms. L got angry about. Ms. L replied that the Pres. doesn't see or call her enough. Mr. Jordan said

-4-

Ms. L should take her frustrations out on ~~the~~ him-- not the President.

The following week Ms. L had two interviews in NY ^{in response to} ~~as a result of~~ her letters.

4. After Ms. Lewinsky was informed, by the Pres., that she was identified as a possible witness in the Jones case, the Pres. and Ms. L discussed what she should do. The Pres. told her ~~to~~ he was not sure she would be subpoenaed, but in the event that she was, she should contact Ms. Currie. When asked what to do if she was subpoenaed, the Pres. suggested she could sign an affidavit to try to satisfy their inquiry and not be deposed. In general, Ms. L should say she visited the WH to see ~~B~~ Ms. Currie and, on occasion when working at the WH, she brought him letters when no one else was around. Neither of those statements untrue. To the best of Ms. L's memory, she does not believe they discussed the content of any deposition that Ms. L might be involved in at a later date.

5. After receiving a subpoena two days later, Ms. L contacted Mr. Jordan (because Ms. Currie's brother had been killed in a car accident). Mr. Jordan told Ms. L to come see him ~~that~~ at 5 pm because he couldn't understand Ms. L ~~through her tears~~ on the phone, through her tears. Upon Ms. L's request, Mr. Jordan arranged an appointment for her with an attorney, Mr. Frank Carter.

Ms. L expressed ~~any~~ anxiety with respect to her subpoena requesting the production of any gifts from the Pres., specifically citing hat pins which the Pres. had in fact given her. Mr. Jordan allayed her concerns by telling her it was standard language. Mr. Jordan asked Ms. Lewinsky two questions: Did you have sex with the Pres. and/or did he ask you for sex? ~~Thereafter~~ Ms. L responded to both questions with "no."

Possibly later in that meeting but more probably the next meeting, Ms. L ~~was~~ tried to make it clear to Mr. Jordan that she, in fact, did have a physically intimate relationship with the Pres. On ~~more than one occasion~~, Ms. L expressed ~~concern about signing~~ ~~an affidavit~~

Ms. L made it clear she intended to deny the sexual relationship with the Pres.

On the day Mr. Jordan drove Ms. L to Mr. Carter's office, she showed Mr. Jordan the items she was producing in response to the subpoena. Ms. L believes she made it clear this was not everything she had that could respond to the subpoena, but she thought it was enough to satisfy ~~and still~~ ~~himself~~. Mr. Jordan made no comment about whether or not ~~what~~ ^{what} Ms. L brought was right or wrong. Mr. J drove Ms. L to Mr. Carter's office; introduced them; and left.

DF-DC-00000007

6. The Pres., through Ms. Currie, invited Ms. L to come see him to get her Christmas presents. They played with Buddy, he gave her the presents, they ~~spoke~~ talked casually and spoke for a few minutes about the case. Ms. L asked him how he thought the ~~Pa~~ attorneys for Paula Jones found out about her. He thought it was probably "that woman from the Sumner... with Kathleen Willey" (Linda Tripp) who lead them to Ms. L or possibly the uniformed agents. He shared Ms. L's concern about the hat pin. He asked Ms. L if she had told anyone that he had given it to her and she replied, "no."

Ms. L then asked if she should put away (outside her home) The gifts ~~she~~ he had given her or, maybe, give them to someone else. ~~But~~

[Ms. Currie called Ms. L later that afternoon as said that the Pres. had told her ~~Ms. L~~ wanted her to hold onto something for ~~her~~. ~~Ms. L~~ boxed up most of the gifts ^{she} had received and gave them to Ms. Currie. It is unknown if Ms. Currie knew The Contents of the box.]

Ms. L told the Pres. she was planning to sign an affidavit. When Ms. L and the Pres. discussed when Ms. L was moving to NY, the Pres. thought it might be possible that they would not seek her deposition if she was in NY.

DF-DC-00000008

7. Ms. Lewinsky called Mr. Jordan several times concerning her employment in NY. When she called one day especially concerned about the case, Mr. Jordan suggested they meet for breakfast.

At breakfast, Ms. L expressed concern about Ms. Tripp saying she (Ms. L) had trusted her before, but was now suspicious of her.

Ms. L said Ms. Tripp may have seen notes when she was in Ms. L's home. Mr. Jordan asked if the notes were from the Pres. Ms. L said that they were notes to the Pres. Mr. Jordan suggested to Ms. L she check to make sure they are not there (something to that effect). Ms. L interpreted that to mean she should get rid of whatever is there.

~~On the~~

In the car on the way to his office, Ms. L asked Mr. Jordan if he thought the Pres. would always be married to Mrs. Clinton.

Mr. Jordan replied that he thought they would always be married, as they should be. ~~as~~ Ms. L expressed disappointment and then Mr. Jordan said, "well, maybe you two will have an affair when he's out of office."

Ms. L replied that she and the Pres. had already had an affair minus having sex, - but it included everything else. Ms. L believes they did not get into any more detail.

After Ms. L. received the draft of the affidavit, she called Mr. Jordan to ask that he look it over before she sign it. He instructed her to drop off a copy at his office. They spoke later by phone about the affidavit agreeing to make some changes.

That evening, Ms. L. placed a phone call to Ms. Currie asking her to tell the Pres. that she wanted to speak with him before she signed something the next day. He returned Ms. L's call a few hours later. Ms. L. told him Mr. Carter had asked her some sample questions that might be asked of her in the deposition and she didn't know how to answer them. Furthermore, she was concerned that if the answers involved naming people in the WH who didn't like her they would try to screw her over. Ms. L. asked him how she should respond to the questions, "How did you get your job at The Pentagon?" He replied "The people in Legislative Affairs helped you." This is, in fact, part of the truth -- but not the whole truth. The Pres. told Ms. L. not to worry about the affidavit as he had seen 15 others.

- 10 -

9. Ms. L started to become wary of Ms. Tripp in the beginning of Dec. 1997, when Ms. Tripp told Ms. L she had received a subpoena in the Jones case and if asked about Ms. L or others, she would divulge all she knew.

10. Ms. L had a physically intimate relationship with the President. Neither the Pres. nor Mr. Jordan (or anyone on their behalf) asked or encouraged ~~me~~ ^{Ms. L} to lie. ~~I~~ ^{Ms. L} was comfortable signing the affidavit with regard to the "sexual relationship" because she could justify to herself that ~~they~~ she and the Pres. did not have sexual intercourse.

11. At some point in the relationship between Ms. L and the President, the President told Ms. L to deny a relationship, if ever asked about it. He ^{also} said something to the effect of if ~~the~~ the two people who are involved say it didn't happen -- it didn't happen. ~~When~~ Ms. L knows this was said some time prior to the subpoena in the Paula Jones case.

12. Item #2 above also occurred prior to the subpoena in the Paula Jones case.

it was so sad seeing you last night because i was so angry with you that, once again, you rejected me by not wanting to see me today, and yet, all i wanted was for everyone else in the room to disappear and for you to hold me.

i loved you with all of my heart, bill. i wanted to be with you all of the time. most recently in london, i walked the streets thinking how content i would be to walk the streets at your side while you spoke of things past -- filled the air and my soul with your knowledge of history.

when you gave me "leaves of grass", i realized that the reason i felt connected to you, or so i thought, was because you were in my soul. to quote your famous cliché, i felt your pain. i seemed, somehow to feel in my heart some of your experiences. you will see in this collection of things for you, a card i was so shocked to find for obvious reasons. it rang so true to me.

i realized yesterday when betty told me you "couldn't" see me what was really going on -- you want me out of your life. i guess the signs have been clear for awhile -- not wanting to see me and rarely calling. i used to think it was you putting up walls and that the real you was the person whom i was with on the fourth of july. i'm humiliated at how wrong i was. for the life of me, i can't understand how you could be so kind and so cruel to me. when i think of all the times you filled my heart and soul with sunshine and then think of the times you made me cry for hours and want to die, i feel nauseous.

i will never forget what you said that night we fought on the phone -- if you had known what i was really like you never would have gotten involved with me. i'm sure you're not the first person to have felt that way about me. i am sorry that this has been such a bad experience.

well, anyway, these are all of the little gifts and one big christmas gift (the black box) that i've had for you. i wanted to give them to you in person, but that is obviously not going to happen. you may not want to keep them, but please don't send them back. i'm very particular about presents and could never give them to anyone else -- they were all bought with you in mind. your christmas present is an antique from, i believe, the 30's. i was very attracted to it.

i knew it would hurt to say goodbye to you; i just never thought it would have to be on paper. take care.

This is going to be a long letter but I would like to ask you to please honor what I have been through and read all of it, you will never have to read another one of these again.

When I saw RENT I was saddened during the number 14 bus sang, "Goodbye Love". Not for the reasons the composer wanted me to be, but because it was thinking about you and how I didn't want us to get to a point where I would have to say "goodbye handsome". But I am tired of crying and trying to analyze why you don't call me, why everything is the way it is. You know three weeks ago how very upset I was. You knew I wanted to see you and not only did you not see me, but you couldn't even call me to see if I was ok or allow me the sanity of talking to you. So much of this has been a frustration. It takes too much.

I have always been one of those people who has never wanted to be the one to end a relationship because I learned early on that I regret

So I sat down to write you this note. As I contemplated whether it should be a light note so that you wouldn't be afraid to see me or an honest note, the anxiety began to wash over me. I guess you can tell this is going to be of the latter. I want to state plain and clearly that despite what you might think from reading this letter the worst thing you could do to me is cease all contact and banish me from your life.

I sit here stressed out because I know that if you don't see me tonight, by the time I do see you it will have been at least two months. What kind of message does that send to me? Have you not had any desire to talk to me? Do you not wonder what's going on in my life? Do you not miss me at all? Had you not brought me back such a wonderfully extravagant gift, I would be mourning the loss of you in my life. Instead, I am confused.

Handsome, I would much rather have this conversation with you in person, but I don't know if that will ever happen or when so I am just going to bare my soul to you -- here and now.

I feel very connected to you and I have no idea why. I have often told you in person and on paper the various things you mean to me and my feelings for you. I have detailed the ways in which I think you are an incredible man -- despite what you may have done in the past or do now that hurt people you care about. I honor you and what you have been through.

What is wrong with the way things are between us is not that I care about you so deeply, think about you a lot or cherish what we share in person whether it is a conversation, a laugh, a cry or a kiss-- what is wrong is that there is no consistency here. It has been almost two years and I have no clue as to how you really feel about me. Sure there were the times we were together like on the 4th of July where I felt very secure in how your feelings for me. Not that I was the woman of your dreams or the woman about whom you cared the most -- just that you cared about me. I don't know that now. You have not talked to me in six weeks. If you asked me to describe exactly what I wanted this is what I would tell you: I want you in my life. I want to be able to enjoy my life, my work, lovers, friends and family. I want you to be a part of that. Nobody knows what will happen in the future. I cannot be free when I constantly stress about why you haven't called me, returned my calls, wanted to see me etc.

Any normal person would have walked away from this and said "he doesn't call me, he doesn't want to see me -- screw it. It doesn't matter." I can't let go of you

I want to be a source of pleasure and laughter and energy to you. I want to make you smile.

I have had another very unpleasant situation arise. A friend of mine who does not work at the White House has a friend who does and both of these people knew I was looking to come back (reason: I missed it) and that there were some "friends" with some influence helping me. The woman who does work at the WH recently moved offices and called my friend Sunday night. While she didn't want me to know that she had said it, because she felt it improper to pass along such information, she wanted her friend (who is also my friend) to let me know that I will never work at the WH or if I do it will be some -- kind of job with an orange pass. She had heard that I was "after the President" and would never be allowed to work on the complex, and wanted me to be aware of it. My friend became defensive of me and said that's ridiculous. Her friends are just waiting till they find the right job. Her friend's response was that there are jobs created all of the time there -- every week. In fact, there was just a position in Public Liaison created for Stephen Gaudin's girlfriend. This coupled with me finding out they had hired an intern in Panyll's office recently has led me to the conclusion that all you have promised me is an empty promise -- just like Martha said. I am once again, totally humiliated. It is very clear to me that there is no way I am going to be brought back.

What is the most upsetting to me is that I could have been ok with

I will never do anything to hurt you. I am simply not that kind of person. Moreover, I love you.

Dear Betty:

I hope you had an enjoyable weekend. I thought I'd drop you a note since it's so difficult for both of us to talk at work!

I became a bit nervous this weekend when I realized that Amb. Richardson said his staff would be in touch with me this week. As you know, the UN is supposed to be my back up but because VJ has been out of town, this is my only option right now. What should I say to Richardson's people this week when they call? I had mentioned to Richardson that working there was one of the things I was looking at. It probably sounds stupid, but I have absolutely no idea how to tell them, "I'm not sure yet", in a business-like manner. If you feel it's appropriate, maybe you could ask "the big guy" what he wants me to do. Ahhhhh...anxiety!!!!

Also, I don't think I told you that in my conversation last Thursday night with him that he said he would ask you to set up a meeting between VJ and myself, once VJ got back. I assume he'll mention this to you at some point -- hopefully sooner rather than later!

I am enclosing a copy for VJ of the list of advertising/PR firms that I included in "the big guy's" packet. My hopes are that one of the names will jump out as a place where he (VJ) might have a contact.

I mentioned to him that I'd like to drop by on Sat. to give you your birthday present and to see him for a bit. He seemed somewhat receptive and said he'd check it out this week. Of course, he'll forget because in the whole scheme of things it's not that important and I will, of course, probably have to bug you towards the end of the week with this (something to look forward to I'm sure)!!!!

I hope to hear from you soon with some guidance. I am mailing my "thank-you-for-meeting-with-me-letter" to Richardson today. I was pleased the UN interview went well, but I'm afraid it will be like being at the Pentagon in NY...YUCK! PLEASE let me know what to do soon!!!!

1,000 thank you's.

Hugs n' kisses,

Dear Mr. P-

I must admit it... I am a compulsive shopper! I saw this tie and thought it would look fabulous on you. I hope you like it.

All of my life, everyone has always said that I am a difficult person for whom to shop, and yet, you managed to choose ~~the~~ absolutely perfect presents! A little phrase (with only eight letters) like "thank you" simply cannot begin to express what I feel for what you have given me. Art & poetry are gifts to my soul!

I just love the hat pin. It is vibrant, unique, and a beautiful piece of art. My only hope is that I have a hat fit to adorn it (ahhh, I see another excuse to go shopping)! I know that I am bound to receive compliments on it.

I have only read excerpts from "Leaves of Grass" before - never in its entirety or in such a beautifully bound edition. Like Shakespeare, Whitman's writings are so timeless. I find solace in works from the past that remain profound and somehow always poignant. Whitman is so rich that one must read him like one tastes a fine wine or good cigar - take it in, roll it in your mouth, and savor it!

I hope you know how very grateful I am for these gifts, especially your gift of friendship. I will treasure them all... always.

Monica

MEMORANDUM FOR HANDSOME

SUBJECT The New Deal

A proposition for you: You show me that you will let me visit you sans a crisis, and I will be on my best behavior and not stressed out when I come (to see you, that is).

I'd like to come for a visit this evening. According to my calendar, we haven't spent any time together on the phone or in person in six weeks. You'll be gone the next few weekends so if we don't get together tonight, by the time I do see you it will have been over two months.

What do you think of maybe planning ahead with Betty that you would leave at seven so everyone else goes home, and then you could come back around 7:30 or later. I'll be tied up until about 7:30. Any time after that is good for me.

Oh, and Handsome, remember FDR would never have turned down a visit with Lucy Mercer!

I believe the time has finally come for me to throw in the towel. my conversation with Marsha left me disappointed, frustrated, sad and angry. I can't help but wonder if you knew she wouldn't be able to detail me over there when I last saw you. maybe that would explain your coldness. the only explanation I can reason for your not bringing me back is that you just plain didn't want to enough or care about me enough. how else can I rationalize why it is ok for Marsha and Debi and scores of others to be in golden positions -- people can say what they want to about them, even be nasty to them but everyone knows that they will never be touched because they have your approval. Debi can prance around in your shoes or stand in front of 50 people gathered for dinner bragging about just how she obtained your shirt for Walter to have bespoke shirts made for you. Marsha can remark to someone which subsequently ends up in the papers and magazines that "she spent the night with you". I just loved you -- wanted to spend time with you, kiss you, listen to you laugh -- and I wanted you to love me back.

I never told you this because I didn't want to seem like a martyr but in April of '95 I wanted nothing more than to beg you to do something so I didn't have to leave. I wanted to scream and bawl. you have no idea how desperate, upset, humiliated I was. But I didn't. you said you would see what you could do and I left it at that because I didn't want to put you in a bad situation. It was an election year and I knew what was important. You promised you would bring me back after the election with a snap of you fingers.

I left the WH at age 22 from my first job out of college, the beginning of my career, to come to work at an agency in which I have no interest at a job where I'm bored. I kept a calendar with a countdown until election day. I was so sure that the weekend after the election you would call me to come visit and you would kiss me passionately and tell me you couldn't wait to have me back. You'd ask me where I wanted to work and say something akin to "Consider it done" and it would be. Instead I didn't hear from you for weeks and subsequently your phone calls became less frequent. We talked about my returning and you kept replying, "I'll talk to Bob Nash", "I've talked to Bob Nash", "Bob Nash is working it". Then it moved to "Marsha is working on it". Then you dumped me and it was still "Marsha' is working it. I promise it will be done" Now, Marsha is saying just be patient. Why do you want to come back anyway? You've already had the experience of working here.

I can't take it any more. A person can only handle so much anxiety and stress. Maybe it would be easier to wait if you had called more and it hadn't been such trouble to try to see you. As I said in my last letter to you I've waited long enough. You and Marsha win. I give up. you let me down, but I shouldn't have trusted you in the first place.

AFFIDAVIT OF JANE DOE #

1. My name is Jane Doe # . I am 24 year old and I currently reside at [REDACTED], [REDACTED].

2. On December 19, 1997, I was served with a subpoena from the plaintiff to give a deposition and to produce documents in the lawsuit filed by Paula Corbin Jones against President William Jefferson Clinton and Danny Ferguson.

3. I can not fathom any reason that the plaintiff would seek information from me for her case.

4. I have never met Ms. Jones, nor do I have any information regarding the events she alleges occurred at the Excelsior Hotel on May 8, 1991 or any other information concerning any of the allegations in her case.

5. I worked at the White House in the summer of 1995 as a White House intern. Beginning in December, 1995, I worked in the Office of Legislative Affairs as a staff assistant for correspondence. In April, 1996, I accepted a job as ^{correspondent} assistant to the Assistant Secretary for Public Affairs at the U.S. Department of Defense. I maintained that job until December 2nd, 1997. I am currently unemployed but seeking a new job.

6. In the course of my employment at the White House, I met President Clinton on several occasions. I do not recall ever being alone with the President, although it is possible that while working in the White House Office of Legislative Affairs I may have presented him with a letter for his signature while no one else was present. This would have lasted only a matter of minutes and would not have been a "private" meeting, that is not behind closed doors. ?

7. I have the utmost respect for the President who has always behaved appropriately in my presence.

8. I have never had a sexual relationship with the President, he did not propose that we have a sexual relationship, he did not offer me employment or other benefits in exchange for a sexual relationship, he did not deny me employment or other benefits for rejecting a sexual relationship. I do not know of any other person who had a sexual relationship with the President, was offered employment or other benefits in exchange for a sexual the plaintiff 9. Since I do not possess any information that could possibly be relevant to the allegations made by Paula Jones or lead to admissible evidence in this case, I asked my attorney to provide this affidavit to plaintiff's counsel. Requiring my deposition in this matter would cause unwarranted attorney's fees and costs, disruption to my life, especially since I am looking for employment, and constitute an invasion of my right to privacy.

Dear Marsha:

As you know, our last conversation was very upsetting to me. I fully understand the obstacles ^{that} ~~are standing in my way of trying to work in the~~ West Wing, and I want to clarify that it is ^{quite} ~~not~~ important for me to secure a position there. I am perfectly content having a job in the OEOB. I'd like to point out that the two interviews I had were for positions in the West Wing only because those were the two ^{positions} ~~positions~~ about which I had heard. Had they been two positions in the OEOB, I would have been just as eager.

As I discussed with you when we met, I have ^{my primary interest is in} ~~a great deal of interest in working~~ in Communications. With both Sidney Blumenthal and Paul Begala joining the White House team, there is no doubt ^{that} ~~in my mind there will be some positions~~ opening and some created. Now is the time that their transitions are being structured. I have no way of ^{learning of} ~~finding out what~~ their game plan is for positions, but I hope that is something with which you can help me. I also mentioned when we met that there used to be more research positions in Communications than there are now [see attachments]. I know you are busy, but have you had a chance to see if those slots are still open? If they were eliminated before, might they be reinstated with Mr. Blumenthal and Mr. Begala coming to the WH? [The Communication research positions are low-level and in the OEOB].

^{yet} Another avenue that can be explored is Public Liaison. While I do not have as much interest in that ^{area} ~~office~~ as I do in Communications, I ~~think it would be~~ challenging and interesting to be a part of that team. ~~That entire office is~~ situated in the OEOB.

^{is, of course, the public} ~~equivalent of the media area in~~ the White House.

*Needs major work
good!!!*
 Marsha, I was told that I could come back after the election. I knew why I had to leave last year at last year, I became aware of it by mid-April, and I have been beyond patient since then. I do not think it is fair to ask me to wait until the end of the year or to be told by the person whom I was told would get me a job that there is nothing for me and she doesn't really hear about positions on the complex any way. I know that in your eyes I am just a hindrance -- a woman who doesn't have a certain someone's best interests at heart, but please trust me when I say I do.

I will be traveling with Secretary Cohen from 7-14 July, and then I'll be in Los Angeles from 17-21 July. I hope to hear from you before I leave.

Sincerely,

Dear Marsha:

I am looking forward to meeting with you when I return from traveling with Secretary Cohen. Based on our last conversation, I wanted to clarify that I fully understand that obstacles exist in terms of obtaining a position in the White House. It is not important for me to secure a position in the West Wing. I am perfectly content having a job in the OEOB.

As I discussed with you when we met, my primary interest is in Communications. If it was eliminated, might it be reinstated with Mr. Blumenthal and Mr. Begala coming to the WH? [The Communication research position is low-level and in the OEOB]. Yet, another avenue that can be explored is Public Liaison. While I do not have as much interest in that arena as I do in Communications, that entire office is situated in the OEOB and, is of course, the public equivalent of the media arena in Communications.

Dear Handsome,

29 June 1997

I really need to discuss my situation with you. We have not had any contact for over five weeks. You leave on Sat. and I leave for Madrid w/ the SecDef on Monday returning the 14th of July. I am then heading out to Los Angeles for a few days. If I do not speak to you before you leave, when I return from LA it will have been two months since we last spoke. Please do not do this to me. ^{I feel disposable, used and insignificant.} I understand your hands are tied, but I just want to talk to you and look at some options. I am begging you ^{one last time.} ~~from the bottom of my heart~~ to please let me ~~come~~ ^{visit} see you ^{Brietta} Tuesday evening. I will call Betty Tues. afternoon to see if it is o.k.

Re: ~~Ken's~~ Counselling

* So far as I can tell, Ken is happy with her support.
Responsive and attentive.

* My concerns;

- Ken's calendar. Too many errors in the mornings. Need to work the schedule better before she leaves at night. Too late by time she arrives in morning. She has primary responsibility for his calendar and its accuracy. She needs to verify everything on it and share the information with Mark early enough in the afternoon so we can get together and resolve conflicts. Also, shouldn't make excuses or blame others when Ken finds an error or asks a question we can't answer.

* Work Area. Need to clean it up and keep it clean. Part of professionalism. She has to stay organized.

* Ken's inbox. We need to do a better job of monitoring what goes into it. In general, other than personal mail and DDI products, almost everything else should come to me. We've talked about that but it isn't happening.

* Other:

- Spends too much time on personal email, personal business and phone calls.

- Answering phones. She feels that others aren't doing their share. Told her that no one likes answering the phones and everyone thinks they do it more than the others. She wondered if her position wasn't somewhat higher than the other admin positions and that they should answer more calls. Told her that Mr. Bacon has the highest priority and when she's on a project for him, that makes her position more important. But at other times, everyone has to pull their share.

* Asked her if she was still happy here. Appears to be less happy than when she started.

- Has had some personal problems which she didn't want to discuss and has been bringing that to the office.

- Feels unchallenged with admin duties. Told her that was to be expected. It would be unlikely that someone with her education and energy would want to make a career of this job. She's been here about a year. That said, she could make the job more challenging by taking on more responsibility. Could draft responses to Ken's mail, for example. Pointed out that Mark is constantly busy because he's always looking for better ways to get things done.

- Has been thinking about trying to get another job at the White House.

Ms. Lorrie McHugh
Deputy Assistant to the President
The White House
Washington, DC.

Dear Lorrie:

Mike suggested that I drop you a note about my confidential assistant, Monica Lewinsky. Her resume is attached.

She is terrific--bright, energetic and imaginative. I would like Monica to stay here as long as I do. However, she has more skills than her current job requires, and this isn't a job she wants for life. As a result, I have advised her that she should try to move into a more substantive job, either here or in the White House. Unlike many people, she is actually following my advice. She would like to work in the White House, where she started work in Washington. She would great as an organizer in the press operation or as an event planner in the communications office.

Mike says that you handle the really hard work over there, such as hiring. Please keep Monica in mind as appropriate jobs open up.

Yours,

MSL-DC-00001230

Dear Bob:

Pursuant to our telephone conversation yesterday, I am transmitting to you herewith one book, which is responsive to "William Jefferson Clinton Grand Jury Subpoena #V002." I accepted service of this subpoena, and it was FAXed to me at 5:15 p.m., Wednesday, January 21.

This subpoena duces tecum was returnable today, and yesterday you afforded me a one week extension, but requested that whatever I had located thus far be produced today. I told you that I believed I had located two books which were responsive, but I am now not certain that one is and I am unable to do the appropriate checking in the time available. However, I am enclosing a soft-cover 54-page book, whose cover bears the Bates number DEK227870. You also requested documents responsive to Paragraph G of the subpoena:

"any and all answers to interrogatories, requests for admission, affidavits, declarations, and depositions of William Jefferson Clinton in Jones v. Clinton and Ferguson."

As I told you, Mr. Bennett, and not I, is handling that case. Mr. Bennett informs me that the materials requested in Paragraph G are covered by a stringent Protective Order entered by Judge Wright with the consent of all parties to that case. Because of recent publicity and prejudicial leaks from numerous sources of material ostensibly covered by the Protective Order, Paragraph G of your subpoena raises serious concerns which we believe should be addressed by the Court. I am taking the liberty of sending Judge Wright a copy of this letter. I understand that the parties in the Jones case have a weekly telephonic status conference every Thursday with the Judge, and it seems to me appropriate to place this matter before the Court at that time.

Although the materials today are physically being delivered to you instead of the grand jury, they are still being produced pursuant to grand jury subpoena and are fully covered by the secrecy provisions of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure.

Sincerely,

David E. Kendall

Dear Bob:

Pursuant to Paragraph G of the subpoena to "William Jefferson Clinton Grand Jury Subpoena #V002," and Judge Wright's ruling (as I understand it) at the conference call on January 27 I am producing herewith a copy of the President's deposition transcript we have received, with attached exhibits, taken on Saturday, January 17, 1998, in the Jones case. This document bears Bates numbers DEK228021 to DEK228326.

I am also transmitting to you herewith an additional page from President Clinton's Supplemental Responses to Plaintiff's Second Set of Interrogatories (bearing Bates number DEK227917A) which was inadvertently not transmitted to you in my production of January 28, 1998.

Although the materials today are physically being delivered to you instead of the grand jury, they are still being produced

Dear Bob:

We have responded in a timely fashion to "William Jefferson Clinton Grand Jury Subpoena #V002", dated January 20, 1998, and served on us the next day. We believe that Ms. Lewinsky might have given the President a few additional items, such as ties and a pair of sun glasses, but we have not been able to locate these items. The President frequently does not see and is not aware of numerous items which are sent to him by friends and supporters.

Sincerely,

David E. Kendall

Dear

Thank you for your interest in the secretarial/administrative positions with the National Security Council staff.

Your application and resume were well received, and you are obviously highly qualified. We received several applications and the competition for the positions has been competitive. I am sorry, but I cannot offer you a position at this time. I will keep Bob and I have been working with Tim on placing these two people.

We are working closely with DOD to make this happen for Monica. We have not finalized the deal but are working toward that end.

Monica is coming in to see me today pursuant to Tim's request of me. Our direction is to make sure she has a job in an Agency. We are working toward that end.

PHOTO REQUESTS

BM PO41413-04 14

~~BM~~ PO ~~41413-04~~

Sorry!

1. 14 June 1996 The President's Radio Address

We were the second to last family to speak with the President. In our family photo, my father and step-mother are to the President's right and my and I are to his left. We spoke with him for a few minutes before the posed photo and it was within those few minutes that Bob and the other photographer were clicking away. In particular, I would love to get a copy of the picture of my brother shaking the President's hand.

PO41413-10A 18X10M

-We all have dark brown hair. I was wearing a light pink suit and my brother was wearing a medium blue shirt and khaki pants. My father is tall and wears glasses, and my step-mom was wearing a black and white polka dot (or small floral) dress.

check w/ Rebecca Cameron - 4 copies ordered

2. 18 August 1996 The President's 50th (the cocktail party before the show)

I was toward the middle/end of the rope line. I have brown straight hair and was wearing a red, raw silk, sleeveless dress.

9/9 - ~~film~~ contracts not in yet?
not our photographer political event

3. 17 November 1995 (during the furlough)

Bob McNeely took a picture of me with the President in Mr. Panetta's outer office. I was wearing a red suit jacket with a black collar and black pants. Bob had misplaced the film or contact sheet for a long, long while! Billie Shaddix kept checking for me if it ever appeared in the book, as we thought it was stuck in Bob's office somewhere. Maybe it is there now?????

no film

4. 30 January 1996 Pat Griffin's, former Assistant to the President for LA, retirement party in the COS's office

Sharon Farmer took a couple of group shots of the Leg Affs staff with the President. I was wearing a black suit standing in the back row.
